Duke Changes Plans To Meet Civil Groups

The Duke of Kent's visit to Victoria, originally intended to be confined strictly to service inspections, turned into one of public acclaim today and in a last-minute change of plans two civil affairs were included in his program this morning.

The duke's visit will end at 7:15 tonight when he takes off from the Patricia Bay airfield. He will leave Government House at 6:30 proceeding down Rockland Avenue to Quadra Street, to Royal Oak and on to the airfield by the East Saanich Road.

First alteration came at Government House this morning when Mayor McGavin and members of the City Council were presented and shook hands with the duke. He talked with each member of the council, asking about their business and their length of residence in the city.

GOES TO BUILDINGS

From there he made an unscheduled visit to the Parliament Buildings to be introduced to members of the government by Premier Pattullo. All the civil servants turned out beside the main steps, and augmented by citizens, lustily cheered the Duke as his open limousine drew up.

The Duke met the cabinet ministers in the executive chamber where they were holding the Friday cabinet meeting. He was shown over the buildings by the Premier. When the Duke was admiring the appointments of the Assembly Chamber he passed the remark that the British House of Commons had gone beneath Nazi bombs.

Outside Western Air Command headquarters at the Belmont Building another crowd gathered to greet the Duke at his next stop. His Royal Highness there witnessed the administrative end of the Pacific air defence under guidance of Air Commodore Earl A. Godfrey, and met the chief officers.

Red Air Force Bombs Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — This capital was raided by air last night but the German high command, aside from an implication that the raiders were British, did not identify the "individual planes" which bombed Berlin.

British authorities denied that Berlin was one of the Royal Air Force's targets last night, raising the probability that the Russian air force, which the Germans had pictured as no longer an offensive threat, had spanned the Russian-German battle front and flown over 600 miles to their target. A reliable London source with Soviet contacts said he had been informed the Russians had attacked Berlin.

A Nazi spokesman contended the bombers were "undoubtedly British," and added "the British (through their denial) are doubtless trying to inject a new, intriguing note and awaken a forlorn hope that the Russians start visiting us. But anyone knowing the Russian military situation appreciates it is impossible."

Two communiques touched on this raid. A special report issued in early morning said:

"Weak enemy forces flew into western Germany last night. Only a few planes succeeded in ad-

Batman Abused Him

His own batman at one time used to roast him unmercifully, Major-Gen. R. O. Alexander, C.O.G.-in-Chief, Pacific Command, admitted in talking to the graduating class of officers at Gordon Head today.

It was the excitement of football games that caused distinctions of rank to be swept aside.

"Every officer should play the sports his men play," the general said. "You are then on an equal footing. When I was a subaltern I used to play football on a team of which my batman was captain, and what a roasting he used to give me."

"Once we returned to headquarters I would tell him that unless he quit abusing me on the field he could go back to the ranks."

"He would say 'Yes, sir.' Next time he would give it to me worse than ever."

Final Bulletins

Weygand in Vichy

VICHY, France (AP) — Gen. Maxime Weygand, Vichy consul in Africa, arrived here by special plane today.

Lady Halifax Flies Across Atlantic

WASHINGTON (AP) — Viscountess Halifax, wife of the British ambassador, has landed in Britain after a plane flight from Canada, the British embassy said today.

The embassy said Lady Halifax had gone to London to see one of her sons, home on leave from the armed forces. The ambassador is expected to follow her shortly, but the embassy said no date for his departure has been set.

'OUT OF QUESTION'

TORONTO (CP)—G. R. Cottrell, federal oil controller, said today "relaxing our restrictions on gasoline . . . is absolutely out of the question."

He said conditions today are much more urgent than a few weeks ago.

Elephant Halts Duke

Pink elephants are proverbial troublemakers, but one of the common variety held up the Duke of Kent and his entourage today. As the Duke was proceeding along Fort Street about 1, on his way to the luncheon at the Union Club, his car was suddenly brought to a halt outside St. Margaret's School, behind a street car. The sirens of the police escort had little effect.

Mona, a two-and-a-half-ton elephant, on her way to the Willows to appear in a circus, was blocking the way and, unimpressed by the proximity of royalty and the efforts of her trainer, refused to hasten or to get out of the way.

The Duke and those with him in the car derived much amusement from the episode, H.R.H. laughing heartily.

Snead Leads

TORONTO (CP)—The defending champion and tourney favorite, long-hitting Sammy Snead of Shawnee-on-Delaware, Pa., blazed around Lambton's course today in a sub-par 68 to take over leadership of the Canadian open golf championship with a 36-hole total of 139.

Canada to Recruit 830 Women Next Month

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister Ralston today said the National War Services Department, at request of the National Defence Department, would enlist 830 women for service with the Canadian Women's Army Corps, beginning September 1.

He said Miss Elizabeth Smellie, matron-in-chief of the Canadian Army Nursing Sisters, who has been charged with original organization of the corps, will leave for Victoria next week and will meet women's organizations across Canada already interested in the army corps work.

'Strike Must End'

NEW YORK (AP) — Ralph A. Bard, Acting Secretary of the Navy, said today that unless labor and management settle their dispute at Kearny, N.J., shipyards, "steps must be taken which will in one way or another" get production resumed there.

In another strike development, several hundred A.F.L. workers walked out on a $100,000,000 worth of defence work at the Curtiss-Wright corporation propeller division at Caldwell, N.J.

Clocks Going Back

LONDON (CP) — Britain will turn the clock back one hour at 3 a.m. Sunday after three months of "double summer time," which is two hours ahead of Greenwich time.

Jap Planes Raid Chungking

CHUNGKING (AP) — About 140 Japanese planes, coming over in two waves, smashed at Chungking and its suburbs again today.

A bomb explosion near a waterfront dugout caved in the shelter and killed more than 15 Chinese and injured at least as many more.

Some of the eight raiding formations flew directly over the safety zone on the south bank of the Yangtze River, but no bombs were dropped there.

The alarm lasted almost two hours. The first wave of 43 planes concentrated on Chungking's downtown area.

Bars, Clubs Closed To Young Soldiers

Circulars sent out today by the B.C. Liquor Control Board to beer parlor and liquor club operators, warn them that the rules against serving liquor to minors are not waived because a man is in the uniform of His Majesty's forces.

W. F. Kennedy, liquor board chairman, said the notice was sent out because of one or two cases that have occurred, and was a warning to licensees. He said wearing of a uniform made no change in a man's status so far as the Liquor Act is concerned.

'V' in Mexico City

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The British "V" for victory appeared in black paint and tar on walls of buildings here today.

Canada to Mobilize 6th Army Division

OTTAWA (CP)—Authority has been granted to proceed with mobilization of the 6th Canadian division of the active army, Defence Minister Ralston told reporters today.

The armored division, already in training at Camp Borden, and scheduled for movement overseas during the year, has been named the 5th Canadian (Armored) Division. The 4th division previously was given authorization for mobilization and a good portion of the 3rd division already is overseas with the 1st and 2nd divisions.

PACIFIC READY

He said that because of the situation in the Orient defence precautions are being taken on Canada's Pacific coast.

The technical units, artillery, engineers, signals and army service corps for the 6th division will be mobilized from the reserve army units, the minister said.

The first step will be the organization of three complete brigade groups each containing an infantry brigade and a full complement of other arms and services. Later divisional troops would be mobilized and a division headquarters created.

The minister said he could not say where the 6th division would be stationed but indicated the brigade groups would probably be concentrated having regard to the needs of particular areas and training facilities available.

Cal. Ralston said he anticipated training of the 4th and 6th divisions in Canada would be carried to a more advanced stage than was the case with the first three divisions.

"I said before our objective is to have our troops fully trained and equipped before they leave Canada," he said. "I think that objective is coming in sight."

"I am informed we have sufficient equipment to fit the 6th division for training and operational needs in any likely emergency," Col. Ralston said.

Reds Use Bayonets; Retake Village

Canadian and Associated Press. Sailors from the Red navy have been put into action on land duty with the Red army on the Baltic front and have captured a village, a dispatch from the Baltic fleet reported tonight.

The dispatch said a naval force marched 50 miles to enter land operations and retook the German-held village after a three-day battle against superior numbers, finally storming it in a bayonet charge.

While the communiques reported fighting in the same way theatres as for several past days on the whole front, advances from Leningrad and Kiev, the major German goals behind the northern and southern flanks, said life continued normally within the cities.

Kiev, the Ukraine capital, was said to have been transferred into a "real fortress of defence."

FAIRY TALES

Branding as "Arabian fairy tales" Hitler's claims of vast military successes, the Russians estimated today that 6 1/2 weeks of war had cost the Germans more than 1,500,000 men, put their own losses at 600,000 dead, wounded and missing, and declared the German blitzkrieg a failure.

While acknowledging the conflict had resulted in terrific casualties and heavy destruction of equipment, a Soviet communique characterized as "fantastic" German assertions that 895,000 Russians had been captured and many times that number slain.

Such claims, it said, were made only to bolster the morale of the German people, who, the Russians claimed, have been rendered uneasy by rumors of Nazi reverses and a shortage of food supplies at home.

The Russians admitted the loss of 5,000 tanks, 7,000 cannon and 4,000 planes, but said these losses were small compared with those which the Nazis had suffered.

A series of special German communiques Wednesday claimed the Russians had lost 13,145 tanks, 10,377 guns and 9,082 planes.

As a matter of fact, the Russians declared, the Nazis have lost 6,000 tanks, 8,000 cannon and 6,000 planes and have suffered a severe blow to their fighting capacity and morale.

FASCIST TERROR

Russia said hundreds of civilians shot at Lwow during the German advance into Russian-annexed Poland were the victims of "Fascist terror"—not of the Russians—and that they were killed just after German occupation of the city.

A communique said an orgy of murder and rape was directed mainly at members of trade unions, workers in public services and Stakhanovites, factory employees practicing the German speed-up formula. It identified the killers as German soldiers,

NEEDS 2,000

The 4th division, already mobilized and from which some troops were drawn for the armored division now is about 2,000 under strength for the units authorized and all but two of the units for the division have been authorized, said the minister.

Since July 5 recruits have been enlisted at an average rate of 325 to 350 per day for six days a week, the minister said. In the last week which was included in the average there was a slight falling off, probably due to seasonal activities such as farming operations. Steps are being taken to keep up the flow of men into the army by way of further organization of recruiting machinery.

"Out of the first four-month compulsory training class which numbered 4,012, we have enlisted 2,414 for overseas service," he said.

"The air force now is engaged in recruiting and there is complete understanding between the air force and the army as to certain fields where the air force is given the right of way."

The minister said no Canadian-made tanks have yet been issued to the troops. Some 10 Canadian-made 25-pounder guns have been issued for training purposes in Canada.

"The tank situation has brightened up in the last month, I am informed, but it is a long hard pull," he said. "There are prospects for some deliveries next month."

BADGES

Consideration is being given to the design of a badge for issue to men who offer themselves for enlistment and are rejected, Col. Ralston said. The badge will be the same for all three armed services and regulations already drawn up have been submitted to the three services for approval.

KIEV—Stopped by a Soviet stone wall at Zhitomir in their drive down the straight line that is the shortest distance between Lwow and Kiev, German troops tried swinging north and south of the highway in flanking pincers. Map shows direction of German attacks on the Ukraine capital.

STORM TROOPERS AND GESTAPO, 'BOOTS LARGE'

The German high command claimed German armies, midway between Kiev and Odessa in the lower Ukraine, had captured the supreme commander of the Soviet 6th army, annihilated his assault force and taken 30,000 other prisoners. "Boots were large," said a communique.

Although it was reported in other German quarters that Kiev had been encircled by fast-driving German forces, the war bulletin from Hitler's headquarters indicated the main southern offensive is stretching southward toward the Black Sea coast instead of eastward, and is aimed at shearing off the big port of Odessa.

'Japan Responsible', Says Hull

United States Secretary of State Cordell Hull in Washington today said Japan alone was responsible for any encirclement of itself in the Pacific.

He was referring to a statement in Tokyo by Koh Ishii, Japanese cabinet spokesman, who said Japan has recognized officially military, political and economic encirclement of her empire by Britain, the United States and the Netherlands East Indies.

Meanwhile part of the Japanese naval squadron which covered the landing of Japanese men and equipment at Saigon, French Indo-China, left that port, but whether or not it has quit Indo-China waters is not known.

Reuter's News Agency in London quoted the Singapore Ministry of Information as saying United States fighter planes being delivered to British bases in Burma would prove "one of the answers to Japan's new strategic move in Indo-China."

READY

These planes, the ministry said, are ready to "chop to bits" any bombing attacks Japan might launch against China's Burma Road.

The announcement said U.S. aid to China is pouring over the Burma Road and if this flow were stopped it would be equivalent to "drawing the war fangs from China."

Ishii's blunt statement was the first Japanese government comment charging formation of a cordon around Japan. Before today the Japanese press alone had been sharply critical of reported American, British and Chinese preparations to forestall any possible Japanese military expansion beyond French Indo-China and had asserted the Americans, British, Chinese and Netherlands were bent on offensive encirclement of Japan.

In a dispatch from Bangkok, capital of Thailand, the Japanese news agency Domei claimed there was every indication that the United States, Great Britain and China are making efforts to check Japan and that encirclement had been tightened by establishment of British air bases in Malaya and Burma.

Domei added Britain had plans for strengthening the defence of the Burma Road by closer co-operation with the Chungking government.

CONSIDERATION

Domei claimed usually reliable Thai sources had informed the British government recently approached Thailand for use of military bases there in return for a "consideration" regarding lost

Thai territories in British Malaya and Burma.

The dispatch said these sources added that since Japanese troops had advanced in southern French Indo-China there had been increasing pressure on Thailand for use of her bases by what is called the American-British-Chinese-Netherlands Indies combination. Lieut.-Cmdr. Tota Ishimaru, regarded by Japan as one of her most authoritative naval experts, writing in the newspaper Hochi, said: "Manchoukuo, China, Indo-China and Thailand have joined the co-prosperity sphere. Now we can draw on Indo-China and Thailand for iron, coal, rice and other food."

"Getting the (Netherlands) Indies oil and Malay rubber is a bit difficult, but should be a cinch if we tackle the problem after German fashion."

BRISBANE, Australia (AP)—Cheering citizens showered streets here with confetti and streamers today as 500 sailors and marines from United States cruisers and 400 New Zealanders marched through the city.

Mounted troopers and strong police lines prevented the U.S. men from being mobbed by the welcoming throngs as was the case on a previous visit.

GERMAN CLAIMS

BERLIN (AP)—The German high command today claimed destruction of 59,500 tons of British shipping within the past 24 hours.

The daily communiqué claimed nine other ships were damaged by U-boat torpedoes, including four totaling 29,000 tons, "whose loss is probable."

The air force was credited with destruction of three freighters totaling 13,000 tons off the east coast of England and the damaging of five big merchant ships, including a tanker.

The submarine toll of 46,500 tons was reported taken from an especially strongly protected convoy bound for England.

(Comment on these Nazi claims was not immediately available in London.)

Municipal School Inspectorate Changes

George H. Deane Retires, H. L. Campbell Succeeds

Retirement on superannuation of George H. Deane, municipal school inspector for Victoria at the end of August and the appointment of Harold L. Campbell, vice-principal of the Provincial Normal School to succeed him was announced today by Hon. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education.

Appointment of Mr. Campbell was recommended by Victoria School Board. He will commence his new duties September 1.

Retirement of Mr. Deane removes from the educational scene in Victoria an official who has had much to do with the growth and guidance of the city schools. Under his direction the junior high school system was initiated. He came to the position from the Department of Education where he was connected with the technical education branch, and has served for 20 years.

Mr. Campbell is widely known in Victoria and member of a respected teaching family. His father is J. M. Campbell, former principal of North Ward School. His brother, now Lieut. Claude Campbell, serving overseas, was vice-principal of Victoria High School.

Mr. Campbell is a veteran of the last war. He graduated from U.B.C. with a B.A. and took his degree of Master of Education at the University of Washington. For a time he was an inspector of schools and is also director of the Summer School.

PEACE TO CANADA, LIBERTY TO U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Canada can look for Peace this summer, but Liberty will stay in New York.

Peace and Liberty are two of the eight grandly-named daughters of former president commissioner Santiago Iglesias of Puerto Rico.

The two girls disclosed today they had decided to devote their vacations this year to spreading the spirits of peace and liberty in the hemisphere—Peace fostering the spirit of peace and Liberty doing the same for liberty.

The idea seemed so good that their six sisters—Equality, Fraternity, Justice, Light, America and Victory—chimed in with the announcement that they, too, would undertake similar missions on their vacations and seek to spread the ideals which inspired their names.

Peace is going to Canada, she said, with the hope of bringing peace to the British Empire. Liberty is going to New York to climb the Statue of Liberty, among other things.

America may be found visiting in California.

NAZIS WARN IRAN

ANKARA, Turkey (Delayed) (AP)—Germany was reported today to have warned Iran (Persia) she would sever diplomatic relations if the Iran government expelled German nationals from the country. The warning was said to have been delivered by the Nazi minister at Teheran.

German diplomats also were understood to have boasted to the Iran government the Nazi armies in Russia would be standing on Iran's Caucasian frontier before winter.

According to British estimates there now are more than 2,000 Germans in Iran employed in various technical and advisory capacities.

The Nazi warning was said to have followed a move by the Iran government to obtain native understudies for German engineers employed by the power, light and radio systems.

VICHY ADVISED TO SEEK NAZI AID

VICHY, France (AP)—The German-dominated Le Nouveau Temps, today demanded Vichy go beyond armistice limits to obtain German "help" in the strengthening of her north African defenses.

It did not conceal that this would be directed against United States.

"The United States will not hesitate, as soon as it judges it expedient, to turn from unrestrained words to unrestrained deeds," the editorial declared. "On that day French West Africa and Dakar, as well as Morocco, will be in danger."

"And we shall have to meet it alone... with fatally inadequate material means as long as close and complete French-German collaboration will not have replaced the strict regime of the armistice."

"We know that final victory of the Reich over the U.S.S.R. has been doubted by certain 'informed circles' in Vichy where the people unfortunately continue trying to make orientation of our foreign policy depend on more or less correct evaluation of world military eventualities."

U.S. Talks About Enforced Saving

NEW YORK (AP)—Talk is growing in United States business circles about enforced savings.

With reductions planned in automobile production and in many other civilian goods lines, people with lots of money are going to bid up prices, it is believed. But if the government could force individuals to save their money, there would not be such fierce competition for available consumer goods as manufacture of peace-time things is reduced.

John Maynard Keynes, British economist, devised a sort of enforced savings plan for Great Britain, which apparently is working smoothly.

Recently Keynes, arriving in the United States for a visit, said the United States also should have some sort of an enforced savings plan. That is about as far as enforced savings have proceeded in this country, although there has been increased talk about it.

A look at the British plan, as it is operating today, may give a clue to things to come in the United States.

The British plan is a part of the income tax. Certain percentages of the amounts paid in income tax, the government promises, will be returned to the payer at the end of the war in the form of postal savings receipts, which are cashable.

A married man with no children in Britain, who has an income of £200 ($890) a year, pays a total income tax of £13. At the end of the war, under the enforced savings provision, this man gets his entire £13 back.

As the income rises, the proportion of tax to be returned at the end of the war under the enforced savings plan decreases. A glance at taxes on higher incomes shows the trend.

A married man with no children and income of £400 a year, pays an income tax of approximately £81. At the end of the war he gets back £28.

A man of similar status, with an income of £500 a year, pays £126 and gets back £33.

'Stands With Bated Breath'

ADELAIDE (CP)—Prime Minister R. G. Menzies said today "Australia stands with bated breath in a most vital hour of her history."

He said that in the past week "The war has taken an ominous turn for Australia, but we are immeasurably better equipped for defence now than in 1939."

"Australia has never yet run away from the foe," he added.

At Melbourne, Air Minister John McEwen said British Empire air forces in the Far East, including Australian units now in Malaya, are strong enough to meet any emergency.

The Australian units in Malaya, he said, are being steadily reinforced without weakening the Commonwealth's air strength.

Mr. McEwen announced he had ordered a number of large transports primarily for use of the Australian air force. "These, he declared, would permit co-operation of air strength from distant stations and could be used as regular troop carriers if necessary."

turning to England within a couple of weeks to take part in the defence of London.

When the aircraftman returned this week-end he was wearing the stripes of a flight lieutenant and the ribbon of the Distinguished Flying Cross. After he was taken into custody, police said he admitted the stripes and ribbon were home made.

On his arrival here, the aircraftman was reported to have told friends he commanded a fighter squadron in England until two months ago when he broke both ankles in a bad landing.

The aircraftman, a student at the Commonwealth Air Training School at Port Albert, Ont., was scheduled to speak over a local radio station on the subject of his supposed trans-Atlantic flight when Rouyn police uncovered his hoax and arrested him on instructions from the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

The student flier visited here last March when he claimed to have come from England to take advanced training in bomber flying. Two weeks after he left, he wrote a letter to friends saying he had been promoted to rank of flight lieutenant and would be re-

'You Can't Win' Germans Told

LONDON (CP)—Dorothy Thompson, American newspaper columnist now visiting Britain, said in a broadcast addressed to the people of Germany: "You can't possibly win this war."

She spoke in London before German women journalists who had been expelled from Germany. Miss Thompson, who speaks fluent German, once was expelled from Germany.

She said she had not thought Hitler would be so stupid as to attack Russia, because Russia's policy had been to stay out of the war.

Miss Thompson said she wants Britain to win "not because I am pro-British in the usual sense of the word but because I believe that in this war the British cause is the cause of every nation and every people."

The columnist said she believed Hitler's attack on Russia would "inevitably bring America into the war as an active instead of passive partner" of the Allies.

She told Germany "great reserves of energy, resource and intelligence, and above all the sentiments of three-fourths of the globe are against you."

"If you are told that Russia was planning to attack you, you have merely been told another of Dr. Goebbels' mocking lies," she said.

SON IN COFFIN

PISA, Italy (AP)—Premier Mussolini sent the body of his son Bruno to Predappio, his home town, for burial after a funeral procession today through the streets of this ancient city.

Arriving at the local Fascist headquarters where Bruno lay with two companions who died in an air crash yesterday, Mussolini paused beside the open coffin.

Bruno's mother, Donna Rachele, his 23-year-old widow, and his sister, Countess Edda Ciano, heavily veiled, stood aside when the coffin was taken out.

Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano, the Duce's son-in-law, did not accompany him to the funeral. An official announcement said he was "indisposed" in Rome, but did not specify the nature of his illness.

Students who take up weight-lifting and other extremely rigorous sports are in many cases maladjusted and have "inferiority complexes," according to a study at the University of California.

Debert Shooting Brings Trial

TRURO, N.S. (CP)—Frank Elliot, owner of a traveling show from Amherst, N.S., was committed for supreme court trial after his preliminary hearing on a charge of shooting with intent to wound trooper Dick Dufresne, Montreal soldier. He was freed on $10,000 bail.

Two witnesses testified to seeing Elliot fire a revolver on the show grounds here July 30 during an argument at one of the booths. They were rifleman Herbert Spearman and 14-year-old Keith Harview, who was working in the booth.

The night after the shooting, 500 soldiers from Debert military camp invaded the show and wrecked it almost completely.

Dufresne, who suffered a superficial hip injury, took the stand at his own request and said he had jumped into the booth and pulled down the lights.

"I don't remember taking any money but I remember dropping it after the gun was fired," he said, adding he was quite drunk.

Before his committal, Elliot told magistrate Harold Putnam he had nothing to say.

Washington and Vichy

VICHY HAS INFORMED THE UNITED STATES government that it intends to defend the French empire in its own way. Mr. Cordell Hull evidently is not satisfied with such a vague generalization; he is more interested in what France does than in what the Petain regime says it may or may not do. Recognizing the adage that actions speak louder than words, the American Secretary of State is watching developments at Vichy, and particularly the new pressure now being applied by Berlin in its efforts to force the pace with particular respect to that part of the French colonial empire which includes west Africa—and the highly-important strategic port of Dakar.

It may be true that Marshal Petain is "sometimes trying to resist and sometimes trying to manoeuvre" his ship of state in such a way as to thwart Nazi plans. It is evident he has succeeded to a substantial extent; and it may be true that General Weygand does not propose to take orders that would convert his large African army into a passive or active instrument that might eventually assist the Axis in its designs to establish enemy bases on the Atlantic coastline and at vantage points in the western Mediterranean. There are even indications that anti-British Admiral Darlan has pulled himself up with a jerk in fear lest he may overstep his connivance with Hitler's gang in Paris. It may be too much to hope that a Petain-Weygand-Darlan combination has come to the parting of the ways—that a belated recognition that French honor and the future of an obviously anti-German France are at stake. Were such to turn out to be the case, of course, the whole conduct of the war in the west from now on might well take on an entirely new pattern.

One factor which positively emerges from Mr. Cordell Hull's simple reference to Vichy's intention to defend the French empire as it thinks fit is tantamount to a reminder to the French people that their immediate concern and the fate of France for many a long day are involved in such further collaboration as the men of Berlin may succeed in obtaining from the enemies of the French republic now surrounding the aged Marshal. There would appear to be ample evidence that General Weygand will do what Petain advises. United States ambassador Admiral Leahy has unquestionably warned Vichy what to expect if the Axis is permitted to control that strip of Atlantic coastline which lies only 1,600 miles from the "bulge of Brazil."

The John Antle

UNLESS FURTHER ASSISTANCE IS forthcoming during the present year, the Columbia Coast Mission ship John Antle will have to be laid up and the work of this fine humanitarian agency will be suspended. Approximately $7,400 a year is required to operate this floating hospital and the Victoria Community Chest—with a donation of $2,000—and the Vancouver Welfare Association have been its principal financial mainstays. By the end of this year, however, the ledger will show a deficit of about $3,000.

For more than five years the John Antle has been in service on the British Columbia coast, her marine territory lying between Half Moon Bay on the mainland to the headwaters of Loughborough Inlet, and during that span of time her small staff has performed magnificent labors of which the world will never hear the half. Let the Rev. Alan D. Greene, superintendent of the C.C.M., tell one story which is typical of many: A woman at Squirrel Cove, Cortez Island, prayed that the John Antle would come. Her eight-year-old granddaughter was suffering from an acute infection. The next few hours saw the John Antle alongside, the little girl was transferred aboard and rushed to Pender Harbor Hospital, where the blood poisoning was arrested, and within a week the child was returned home, fully recovered.

The wonderful sense of security which this hospital ship gives to the people in the isolated places of the British Columbia coast is something which no mere words can adequately describe. We submit, moreover, that the officials of the Columbia Coast Mission could provide the provincial government with all the information it might require to persuade it to donate the additional $3,000 or $4,000 a year that apparently is essential to keep the John Antle in service.

Cardboard King

FROM EUROPE COMES A DISPATCH indicating that the Italian Duke of Spoleto, who has been named "King" of the new "Kingdom of Croatia," has not even had the nerve to go into his new domain as yet. It seems there is a little trouble in Croatia, guerrilla warfare and rioting and non-co-operation on the part of the people, who want none of the Duke of Spoleto or any other Italian princeling who hopes to rule them under German bayonets. So the Duke, according to this dispatch, has deemed it the better part of valor not to go in person as yet to claim his new domain. To us this speaks well for the prospective "King." Discretion is an excellent quality in rulers.

Machinery Works Well

WHATEVER MAY BE THE VIEWS OF capital and labor in respect of the policy laid down in British Columbia's Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act, the indisputable fact revealed in the Department of Labor's latest report is that it has reduced the economic loss to the province through strikes and lockouts to a minimum.

The Act, which has been in operation slightly more than three years, establishes certain basic principles. First, it guarantees collective bargaining rights to employees on a majority vote basis. Second, it provides machinery for the conciliation, then arbitration, of industrial disputes. And, finally, it outlaws strikes, or lockouts until this procedure has been followed. This latter might be termed the "cooling off" period so often referred to in labor controversies.

How has this worked? In the period of 1931-1937, before the Act was operative, British Columbia had an average of 15 strikes a year, affecting 3,933 men, with an average loss of man-working days totalling 66,118 each year. In 1938, the first full year of operation, there were 11 strikes, but with only 8,236 man-working days lost. In 1939, four strikes accounted for 13,803 lost days and in 1940 two strikes were responsible for 8,510 idle days. Incidentally, only one of these strikes started in the calendar year, the other being a legacy from 1939.

These figures should not be taken to suggest there has been any decrease in industrial controversies. There were actually 56 complaints placed before the Labor Department. Some were outside the Act or settled amicably immediately, but 27 reached the stage of conciliation. Out of these, nine advanced to the next stage, of arbitration, whereas only one resulted in a strike.

At the present time, when industrial disputes loom as a crucial factor in the nation's war effort, the pattern of treatment established by British Columbia furnishes its own commentary.

Nazis Warn Iran

BRITAIN AND RUSSIA ALREADY HAVE told the government of Iran that there are too many German "tourists" in that country. Several score of them were given their marching orders recently—after British and Soviet protests had been lodged with the powers that be at Tehran. Now comes the intimation Berlin has announced that if any more German nationals are expelled from Iran, the Nazi government will sever diplomatic relations with the great oil state of the Middle East. Ankara hears, incidentally, that German diplomats have boasted that Hitler's armies in Russia will be standing on Iran's Caucasian frontier before the winter. Too much seriousness, perhaps, should not be attached to German threats, despite all the lessons of the past.

But Iran stands solidly between Iraq and the gateway to India. The country's oil wells produce more than 10,000,000 tons of this precious liquid annually. There is every reason in the world why the Tehran government should take stock of its position while there is yet time; it knows what has happened to other countries that have hoped against hope they would not become involved in the general conflagration. No hint is dropped that either the British or the Russians have plans to take Iran into "protective custody" according to the Nazi fashion. But the war is developing on lines that forbid any shilly-shallying. "Protective custody" as Germany interprets the term would mean—in the event of a victory for the men of Berlin—permanent absorption and the loss of everything for which the Iranians have labored long and devotedly as the owners of an independent sovereign state.

Notes

Personality is what the other fellow has when he inspires you to act as though you had some.

Better that Canadian automobiles be left in garages, as the Toronto Telegram puts it, than that Britain's planes be left in their hangars.

MR. KING AND THE WAR

From Ottawa Journal
What is important and pertinent now is only what Mr. King has been saying and doing since the war started. And if you ask us, we think Mr. King has been and is doing a good job, doing it with good heart and good vigor. . . . He took this country into the war on the British side without hesitation or reserve; he has endeavored without doubt to have Canada do her best ever since—and it seems to us to be childish to be barking at him now for what he may have said or done before the fighting began. Our war effort in Canada may not have been all it should be so far. There have of course been shortcomings and mistakes and delays and incompetencies. But this is a difficult country to handle, politically, racially and industrially; and there is no sense in our calling each other names because of things that cannot be helped or easily handled. We think that on the whole the King government has done a vast deal for the war cause, perhaps nearly all that has been possible so far. At all events, the government has shown that sort of spirit. It has assuredly aimed to enable us to do the best we can in Canada in the great cause for which Great Britain and the rest of the Empire are fighting—for the great cause both of Christianity and human freedom.

AROUND AND AROUND

AS I STARTED to write this column today I discovered a tiny caterpillar, about an eighth of an inch long, crawling on the round spool which holds the typewriter ribbon. This was a serious obstacle to overcome, for it was necessary, of course, before starting the day's work, to observe how long the caterpillar would continue to crawl. Well, I have watched him now for 20 minutes. He has gone around and around the spool, looking for the end of it, 43 times. Yes, 43 times he has rounded the equator, never suspecting that he is not on a straight line, never realizing that he is just going around in a circle; and as I write this he is still marching steadily forward, with a firm step into the brave new world.

There must be a moral here somewhere (apart, I mean, from the obvious lesson to anyone who writes pieces for the news-papers and who is always going around in a circle, with the same old ideas). Poor caterpillar, forever doomed to follow his own footsteps! Poor brainless creature which cannot see that he is going around in a circle which has no beginning and no end!

A foot away lies a daily newspaper, with the latest reports from the world's capitals. If the caterpillar could read he might find some comfort there. He might see that he is not the only creature traveling in that fashion.

CURIOUS MAN

MR. HANSON, the Conservative Party's chief spokesman, many not be as stupid as he seems. He is raising the old cry of loyalty and that has often worked before. He is trying to tell the people of Canada that the Conservative Party is more loyal than the Liberal Party and, at Fort William, he accused Mr. King, in so many words, of not being a good Britisher. He also expressed the fear that Mr. King was leading Canada into a "North American Axis," thus making the United States appear in the role of Germany vis-a-vis Italy.

This insult will be appreciated in Washington, no doubt, and will be useful to the isolationists and all men of ill will. It is the Conservative Party's business what it does in its own affairs, and we all understand here, of course, that Mr. Hanson is not its leader. But the Americans don't know that. They may take this man seriously at a time when the democratic world is dependent upon American aid, when the friendship of Canada and the United States is absolutely vital to a British victory.

And the Americans will not know another fact—perhaps many Canadians do not realize it—that there is absolutely no difference between the Conservative and Liberal parties in foreign and Empire affairs. Their record is precisely the same from the time of Macdonald onward. The greatest advocate of Canadian nationhood and the most successful was Sir Robert Borden and Mr. King merely secured the completion of his work in the Balfour Declaration of 1926 and in the Statute of Westminster. The Borden government of 1911 was elected with the aid of the Quebec Nationalists who certainly were not British. Mr. Meighen then demanded a referendum before we fought in any foreign war.

There is not and never was any substance to the theory that we had in Canada a British party and an anti-British party. There is no substance either in the notion that we had a belligerent and a pacifist party. Through the last 20 years all parties were pacifist here, and in Britain. The Bennett government, with Mr. Hanson as a member of it, almost abolished our military establishment. The Liberal Party did little better. But either because he has forgotten the facts or because he wants to play politics with them, Mr. Hanson is trying to make patriotism a party issue. He is still living in 1911 and this is 1941, when the only hope of the world is co-operation between the British and American peoples.

CURIOUS SYSTEM

OUR DEMOCRATIC SYSTEM is a curious thing, when you come to think of it, and much misunderstood. In general, people imagine that they directly control all our affairs. That would be pure democracy, as practiced, disastrously, in Athens, where the mob could never agree. Instead, we have representative government and, in fact, a few men who have our confidence decide our destiny.

This is the system now working in British Columbia. We are not deciding who shall form the next legislature. The political parties are deciding. They name the candidates and we have to vote for them because there are no others. I have attended political conventions when the representative of a country riding was chosen in a hot school room by 21 delegates. They, not the people, decided the election result there. All over British Columbia now a few men are naming the candidates and these we shall have to choose from.

That is our system. It works none too well, but better than any so far invented. It won't work well unless the people take part in the choice of candidates through the parties. By the time the polls open, it is too late. You take what you are offered.

Now that running boards are gone, what does a traffic cop put his foot on while writing a ticket?

Refrigerators now have everything the heart could desire except a little window to let you know whether the light goes out.

LE JOUR'S SCOOP

The enterprising French-language paper, Le Jour of Montreal, has scored a real scoop in the North American newspaper world. It has secured and published an exclusive interview with one whom it calls "a high personage of Russia." For important state reasons, says Le Jour, it is impossible to give the name of this personage. But it makes clear that he plays an important part in Soviet military affairs, and says that he, "as late as a few days ago, was in direct contact with the great general staff in Moscow."

One may assume that the visitor in question is one of the Red generals now on the Soviet military mission to the United States, or someone similarly placed. In any event this authority has given an explanation of the fighting in Russia which makes sense.

"We learned from the unhappy experiences of the Allies," says Mr. X. "The Russian front is not the traditional linear affair with which we are familiar. It is in reality one of three dimensions: a vast space, but without continuous contact; a depth which often runs to hundreds of miles; an indefinite height, with the sky the limit."

"Instead of applying traditional and obsolete theories of strategy, with set lines, protected flanks, strategic retreats to avoid encirclement, and rushes to re-form lines of fire behind the most advanced enemy units, we have decided to stand and fight without recoil. . . ."

"Naturally, at certain points tank formations preceded by Stukas have forced our positions. We have let them pass through without rushing to the rear to try and get behind them again. That is the task of other units in the second, third or fourth lines. We have stuck to our positions behind the enemy advance guards, continued to harass their communications and to intercept the infantry which follows. Thus, the deeper the total zone of fighting established. We are fighting today against some enemy formations near Smolensk. But we are also fighting near . . ."

But we are also fighting near . . ."

Is Naval Architect

Marjorie Young—her graceful hands are constantly busy in the cause of national defence. America's only woman naval architect, she plays an important role in the nation's shipbuilding program.

By ELEANOR RAGSDALE WASHINGTON—One pair of able feminine hands is playing a part in designing and drafting plans for the United States Navy. These hands belong to Marjorie Young, only woman naval architect in America.

Right now Miss Young is working on the design and development of new types of ships to meet the changing technique of modern total war. She's assistant to Starling Burgess, famous yacht designer, in the Washington office of Weaver Associates.

Realize that it would take 240 years for one person to do all the detailed and intricate drafting necessary for one destroyer, and you can see why in the present frantic shipbuilding boom—both merchant and naval—Marjorie's hands are constantly busy. Her firm acts as a go-between 'twixt navy and shipyard on selected contracts, inspecting each step of construction, and making reports of progress to the navy. Marjorie herself works mostly on the proportions and shape of ships' hulls. To do this she must know plenty about physics and mathematics and calculus. And she has to be able to figure just the proper balance of strength, roominess, and speed necessary to enable a particular ship to do its own special job.

"HAPPY ACCIDENT" How did a 28-year-old girl come to invade this most masculine of fields? It was mostly the result of a chain of happy accidents.

When Marjorie Young left her native Newport, R.I., to go to Wheaton College, she steered for a classical, not a nautical, career. She turned thumbs down on math, and majored in Greek literature. When she graduated from college, she landed a job as librarian.

Then she got fired, which was Happy Accident Number One. She invested her $150 earnings in a sailboat and took a good long leave from the discouragements of shore and jobs. Her leave lasted a year and a half, during which she lived at home, sailed in good weather, and learned to build a couple of small boats when snow or rain kept her indoors.

"I kept this up just as long as I dared," laughs Marjorie as she tells about her haphazard steps toward naval architecture. "Then I just couldn't justify boatbuilding any longer, so I took the inevitable secretarial course." After the course was over and Marjorie was back home having a vacation sail, Happy Accident Number Two occurred. She shot her boat head-on into a concrete float. While she was ruefully surveying the damage, she began asking all sorts of questions, such as "Why does a concrete 'float' float?" An engineering friend gave her the answers. Some of them were pretty tough, too. She began to read and study.

Then along came Starling Burgess, designer of the Ranger, Harold S. Vanderbilt's magnificent America's Cup defender. He became acquainted with Marjorie's doctor father, and the contact was established which culminated in Marjorie's real career.

SECRETARY FIRST Burgess needed a secretary, and Marjorie was so excited that she agreed to set out for his headquarters in Bath, Maine, without even mentioning the word "salary."

It was Mr. Burgess' vision, according to Marjorie Young, that led her to become in fact the "first woman naval architect in America." He noted her interest in and eagerness to understand the complexities of his ship-designing firm.

And he, himself, in those depression days when shipbuilding was at a standstill, taught her calculus, physics and the many varied angles related to planning and laying out a ship.

"I never thought I'd have anything to do with warships then," says Marjorie with a reminiscent look in her blue eyes. "I just thought I'd build and sail yachts forever."

She has designed yachts, of course, dearest to her heart being her own boat, Pomellon, a 25-foot cabin sloop. When booming defence business drew Burgess to Washington, Marjorie brought Pomellon along to nearby Annapolis. There she can spend each week-end, alone or with a few friends, racing and cruising in the channels and inlets of beautiful Chesapeake Bay.

Friendliness
Young Mr. and Mrs. Albert Curry Jr. of Pittsburgh, figuring there is too much talk of war topics these days, invited 2,500 men, women and children of their voting district to a party at their home last night to promote friendliness.

Curry, 26-year-old bank clerk, and his wife, Leageay, 26, who is studying to be a doctor, said they felt "there were too many strangers among us and we ought to get better acquainted."

The strongest drink served was soda pop—1,200 bottles in all—but everyone had a good time. They ate ice cream, sang songs, listened to an expert accordion player, and gathered around a piano where a couple of volunteers banged out melodies of old.

After it was over, the couple said: "We certainly had a wonderful time meeting people we never knew existed. If everybody could be friendly with each other like this all the time, the world would certainly be a better place for us all."

THE REAL MRS. DAHL—Four years ago Edith Rogers sent a glamorous photo of herself to General Francisco Franco, leader of the revolt against the government of Spain in an effort to save Harold "Whitey" Dahl, whom she said was her husband, from a firing-squad. Now it is revealed that they never were married, that it was just a ruse to save "Whitey." Flying Officer Dahl of the R.C.A.F. married Eleanor Bone, daughter of the mayor of Belleville, on July 26. She is seen here with her husband.

Weddings

BURWOOD—HALL
The wedding of Mary Kathleen, only daughter of Mrs. A. Hall, 1848 Oak Bay Avenue, and Mr. Robert Samuel Burwood, eldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Burwood, 356 Sylvia Street, took place at 8 o'clock last night in Bethesda Gospel Hall. Mr. B. Sutherland performed the ceremony in a setting of pink and mauve gladioli, asters and sweet peas, mauve and yellow statice marking the guest pews.

The bride was given in marriage by an old family friend, Mr. Arthur Glew, and wore a floor-length gown of white satin with long sleeves. Her finger-tip veil was confined to her head with strands of orange blossom, and she carried a shower bouquet of pale pink rosebuds. Miss Ruth Whiting, the bridesmaid, wore a pretty frock of orchid crepe with short sleeves, and a sash of moss green velvet, green elbow-length net gloves and a small petal hat with moss green veiling. She carried a sheaf of mauve asters and larkspur and cream rosebuds. Mr. Ira Hall was best man, and the ushers were Messrs. Benjamin Duckworth, Harold Shannon and Stephen Mackey. Mr. Walter Eckman played the wedding music and Mrs. N. Duckworth sang "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register.

The reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Duckworth, Emerson Street, where the bride and groom stood in a bower of ivy, rose and white gladioli and asters to greet their friends. A buffet supper was served, and pink and white gladioli were arranged on the bride's table, which was centred with the cake. Mrs. Hall welcomed the guests in a pale blue and white printed dress with blue sheer redingote, dusty rose hat and a corsage bouquet of pink rosebuds. Assisting her was the bridegroom's sister, Miss Ivy Burwood, wearing a bolero frock of coral pink crepe, picture hat and a spray of cream rosebuds.

Following their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Burwood will make their home in Victoria. The bride went away in a rose and blue redingote ensemble with a corsage bouquet of white carnations and rosebuds.

POPWORTH—BOOTHROYD
A Nevada wedding of much interest on Vancouver Island was that of Bernice, daughter of Mr. W. Harry Boothroyd, Alberni and the late Mrs. Boothroyd, to Raymond E. Popworth, Reno, Nevada. The ceremony was performed in Carson City, Nevada, where the bride was visiting relatives. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Iver J. Martinson of Lake Tahoe, California.

They are spending their honeymoon in their summer home in the Tahoe Valley and will tour the southern states before taking up residence in Reno.

Studying Women's War Effort

TORONTO (CP)—Women's contribution to Canada's war effort is being studied at first hand by Mrs. Clara Dancy of Pasadena, Cal., a lieutenant in the Women's Ambulance and Defence Corps of America Inc.

Wearing a natty two-piece khaki uniform with a Sam Browne belt and forage cap, Mrs. Dancy, who has two sons on active service with the merchant marine, last night reviewed the Canadian Women's Service force and told of the work of the WADCA's.

Purpose of the WADCA's, with an enlistment of more than 4,000 women in Los Angeles and vicinity is to train women to be effective in event of any grave national emergency and also to be of service in local disaster relief, she said.

VICTORIA GIRLS PAINTING LEGS

Painted legs are taking the place of silk stockings for many ladies and girls in Victoria. Stores which sell the powder from which the paint is made report a brisk demand and two drug stores handling it were looking for new supplies today.

Although the application of artificial stockings is widespread in England, it is only recently Victorians have had the chance to use this method. The powder is mixed with enough water to make a thin cream; then, with absorbent cotton, is applied to the legs. If the mixture is applied correctly, it will dry a suntan color with no streaks or "wrinkles." An eyebrow pencil is used to draw a line to represent a seam. Soap and water are needed to take over the old "stocking" before a new one is put on.

"At least they don't run," said one girl when asked her opinion of the silk-saving idea. Some women are not satisfied with using the powder for their legs alone. They are using it as a rapid method of getting a healthy suntan.

Art

EXHIBIT CRITIQUE
"Photography is nothing but painting with light. Light from the sun shines either directly or through the clouds to the earth, striking objects with varying degree of intensity. When that brilliancy arrests your attention, there is your picture."

In those words, Horace Tyzack opened a round-table on last week's Victoria Photographic Association's summer exhibit at a meeting of club members at the Y.W.C.A. last night.

Still life pictures, where the light source can be controlled, are an invaluable lesson in composition, Mr. Tyzack said. They let you develop your own line movement, teach you the qualities of light, "Modern art stresses texture and pattern, but good composition is still the fundamental requirement of a really fine picture."

Taking about 20 pictures from the exhibit, Mr. Tyzack discussed them minutely. He showed where too much material was included in a print, that one small corner, if enlarged, would make for a superior picture. He pointed out the importance of having lines from the outside edge of picture lead the eye to the centre of interest.

"Extraneous lines should never lead the eye away from the focal point," Mr. Tyzack said. "It might be anywhere on your print, not the dead centre, but don't obscure it."

Landscapes, he said, are a photographer's most difficult subject, mainly because of the difficulty of eliminating straight lines in horizons and natural growths. British Columbia is especially bad in that respect, water lines having a tendency to cut a picture in half.

REAL TEST
Prints should be made strong in contrast, so that they stand out at a distance and are not merely interesting in the hand.

"But the real test of a good picture is to ask yourself if you'd care to live with it for six months. If it grows on you, then it's good."

The pictures under discussion were: "Chuck," by Ronald McRae; "Mt. Arrowsmith," by Iris Wallace; "Shawnigan Lake," by Maude Hammond; "Surveyor," by Alec Gamon; "Portrait," by Virginia Clark; "Archway," by Al Woods; "A Psychologist," by W. H. Squire; "Saturday Night," by C. V. Gilbert; "The Arch," by C. H. Summers; "Reflections," by S. C. Arvidson; "On Guard," by H. N. Gahan; "Tranquility," by George Burns; "A.R.P.S.," by A. C. H. Dean, A.R.P.S.; "Mr. Pim," by Marjorie Dean, A.R.P.S.; "Temptation," by H. Whitaker; "Classification," by A. L. Meugens; "Model," by H. G. Cox; "Turmoil," by Ken McAllister; "They Gave Up the Struggle," by A. Eastcott; "Grand Central Station," by George Gregory, and "Promise," by Irvine Dawson.

Save Your Fats

Canadians are being asked to save all forms of animal fats from their kitchens.

Canadian consumption of fats and oils is greater than the amount produced in this country, William Knightley, salvage officer at Ottawa, said.

Housewives are asked to put aside fats in separate parcels, when they will be collected, processed and used in place of vegetable oils. The salvage will be economic, because the market price of animal fats has increased.

"In urban municipalities," Mr. Knightley said, "the garbage collection systems will be asked to gather up the animal fats and greases saved by the housewives. Special receptacles are to be carried in the garbage wagons for this purpose. All we are asking city householders to do is to keep kitchen bones and fats separate from the other garbage.

"In small towns and rural centres lacking garbage disposal equipment," Knightley said, "the collection of wasted fats and bones will be placed in the hands of patriotic Canadian women."

Women Will Work In U.S. Factories

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—The demand for more and more defence labor, particularly in the mushrooming aircraft industry, is forcing California to turn to women to swell its reservoir of workers.

R. G. Wagenet, state director of employment, says there is no question but what the employment of ever-increasing numbers of women in the construction of vital defence weapons is coming—and sooner than anyone realizes.

The use of women in airplane factories, munitions plants, in the making of tools and in industries not directly connected with the defence program, thus freeing men for heavier work, would substantially increase the state's sorely-taxed manpower, Wagenet believes.

"Roughly speaking, certain industries could substitute women for 25 to 40 per cent of their workers."

Short dresses and little Lord Fauntleroy suits will be in order Saturday at the Y.M.C.A., when the So-Ed Club holds its monthly party. Arthur Kiteley, chairman of the committee planning the "kiddies' party," said it was not a party for children, but a dance and entertainment for young people, based upon children's programs. The So-Ed lecture series which was so popular last spring will be repeated this fall. Preliminary plans are being made.

Duke of Kent Prolongs Inspection to Chat With Airmen at Patricia Bay

Inspection of the guard of honor and wings' parade of the Royal Canadian Air Force at Patricia Bay airport by the Duke of Kent yesterday afternoon lasted nearly half an hour longer than expected because His Royal Highness stopped to chat with so many of the men. That was why the ducal party was slightly behind time for the people, who waited along the route of his trip to the city.

The Duke made a great impression on the airmen by his questions about their homes and life in the air force. He talked to three dozen or more of them.

Sergt.-Pilot Robert Davis of Memphis, Tenn., who has at his credit 200 hours in the air, came to Canada 10 months ago to enlist in the R.C.A.F. at Windsor, Ont., and has been at Patricia Bay two weeks. The Duke asked him how he liked flying. He said he liked it better than anything else.

Sergt.-Gunner William Morton of Toronto, who has completed 100 hours in the air, enlisted one year ago, been at Patricia Bay two months. The Duke asked whether he was on training work or operation. He replied "operation."

VANCOUVER VETERAN

L.A.C. Oliver G. Hall of Vancouver, wearing his service ribbons from the last war, when he was with the 72nd and was in France for 26 months. The Duke, noticing his ribbons, asked him what he did in the last war, and Hall told him. The Duke said: "That's good." Hall enlisted in the R.C.A.F. 15 months ago, has been at Patricia Bay for eight months. He was a machinist in civilian life, is armorer now at the air base.

Sergt.-Pilot Jack Bell of Saskatoon was a dispenser in Vancouver, but has had 200 hours in the air. He was transferred to Patricia Bay from the prairies only a week ago.

L.A.C. J. D. Johnston of Regina, who enlisted 23 months ago, was at Jericho Beach and has been 15 months at Patricia Bay in the motor transport. "Do they keep you busy here?" asked the Duke. "Yes, sir," said Johnston with emphasis on the first word.

JUST ARRIVED

Sergt.-Pilot N. H. Hodgson of Winnipeg, who enlisted nine months ago, has been at Patricia Bay 10 days. The Duke wanted to know where he had been before coming to the coast. Hodgson told him Saskatoon. "What are you flying here?" the Duke asked. "Electras," Hodgson replied. "How do you like it?" asked the Duke. "Very much."

L.A.C. Eric Ulven of Winnipeg, enlisted 15 months ago at Winnipeg and has been at Patricia Bay nine months. He explained to the Duke his duties as aeromechanic.

Sergt.-Pilot Ross Laut of Crossfield, Alta., enlisted one year ago and has been at Patricia Bay two months, with 100 hours in the air to his credit. The Duke asked about his work and learned it was "operations."

A.C.I.V. A. Haglund, came from Cadillac, Sask. He has been at Patricia Bay for eight weeks and is training to be a rigger.

L.A.C. J. T. Eaton informed the Royal Visitor he has been in the service for two years, has been at that airfield for the past five months and that he was an equipment assistant.

NEWSMAN

"What did you do in civilian life?" the Duke asked A.C.I. H. Miles of Vancouver. Miles replied that he worked in the circulation department of the Vancouver Sun and was training to be a fitter for aero engines.

Sergt.-Pilot A. C. Mackay of Toronto informed the Royal Visitor that besides Patricia Bay he had served at Malton and Brantford, Ont.

Ft.-Sergt. W. L. Hornidge told the Duke he had been a member of the R.C.A.F. for the past four years.

Sergt. F. Ranney had a service ribbon on his tunic and informed the Duke he had been in the air force in the last war and was fire chief of the Patricia Bay station.

FROM MONTREAL

Sergt.-Pilot R. L. Gill told the Duke of Kent that he was a native of Montreal, had been 10 months in the service and added he had been flying for half this time.

On a question from His Royal Highness, L.A.C. C. P. Cookson answered that he had lived in Kelowna. On hearing his voice the Duke asked him where he came from in England. "Ipswich, Suffolk, sir," was the reply, Cookson adding that he had lived in Canada since 1921. He informed the Royal Visitor that all his relations at home were well when he was asked a question pertaining to the Old Country.

Sergt.-Pilot J. Goldthorpe said he was from North Bay, Ontario, had been at Patricia Bay eight days, having come here from Saskatoon, where he had soloed. He had done most of his flying on Grumman amphibians, and so far had not made a solo flight from Patricia Bay. He had been in the R.C.A.F. 11 months, and told the Duke he liked the life.

Sergt.-Pilot A. C. MacKay from Toronto had nine months' service to his credit. Before coming here he had trained at Malton airfield, Toronto and Brantford. Sergt. Tradesman Air-Gunner J. P. MacKenzie of Vancouver had the longest chat with the Duke. He said he had done two years and four months in the air force, and thought it was fine.

"Do you fly every day?" asked the Duke. "Almost," replied MacKenzie. "Have you seen anything unusual in your flights?" "No, sir."

Sergt.-Pilot H. Green, MacTier, Ont., said he'd only been a week and a half here and thought he would like the place all right. He was one of a party of eight sergeant-pilots who came here on gaining their wings at Saskatoon. He had not made a solo flight here yet.

Flight Sergt.-Tradesman Air-Gunner E. T. Williams from

Carlyle, Sask., revealed he was an old-timer in the force, with four years' service. He had done all his flying west of Toronto, and had flown in and out of Alliford Bay, Queen Charlotte Islands, but wasn't very appreciative of that place. Victoria seemed all right.

MET VICTORIA BOY

Corpl. G. H. Jackson was the only Victoria boy who was spoken to by the Duke. His home is at 2516 Dalhousie Street. Naturally he liked Victoria, and was glad to be serving here. He joined the air force in November, 1939.

Aircraftman No. 1 J. L. Campbell from Bethune, Sask., joined up nine months ago.

"What did you do before that?" asked the Duke.

"I just finished high school, sir," said Campbell.

"Are you 21?"

"No sir, 19."

"What work do you do?"

"I'm an air frame mechanic, sir."

"Do you like it?"

"I like it fine, sir."

Leading Aircraftman J. Caulfield from Fernie, B.C., had 16 months with the force.

"What did you do?" the Duke asked.

"Wireless, sir," answered Caulfield.

"Did you operate before joining the service?"

"No, sir, I just followed radio as a hobby."

L.A.C. C. Brown hailed from Winnipeg, had been a year in Victoria and served as a fitter. Everything was fine with him.

Sergeant Pilot John McArthur, Winnipeg, Man., was asked by His Royal Highness how long he had had his wings.

"A week and a half, sir," was McArthur's reply. In answer to other questions, he said he had taken his service flying in Saskatoon, had been in the air force 10 months and had worked in the Winnipeg Grain Exchange before donning uniform.

A.C.I. Arthur Hacker, Vancouver, B.C., said he was an aero engine fitter and had been an auto mechanic before joining the R.C.A.F. 14 months ago.

"Do you find the work hard?" the Duke asked him.

"No, I'm enjoying it," Hacker said.

Corporal Fred G. Hitchens, Regina, Sask., said he had been at Patricia Bay for seven months and had been in the air force a year and a half.

"I'm an air frame mechanic. Before joining up I was a sheet metal worker."

"I guess the two jobs are similar," the royal visitor remarked.

"Yes, sir," Corporal Hitchens said.

Sergeant Pilot Edgar Hodgson, Montreal, told His Royal Highness he had received his wings two months ago.

"I guess you like flying?" the Duke said.

"I most certainly do," the young pilot beamed.

Hodgson had been at the Patricia Bay air base six weeks. He had been in the service two years. Before entering the R.C.A.F. he worked in the advertising business in Montreal.

Corporal W. C. Kennedy said he was a long way from his home in Halifax but he liked the Pacific coast.

"How long have you been in the service?" asked His Royal Highness of the tall, husky airman.

"Four years, sir," was the reply. "I worked for the telephone company before joining."

Kennedy said he was an air frame mechanic and had been for the past year. Prior to that he was on general duties. He had been at "Pat Bay" for eight months.

Sergeant Pilot Harold Wishart, Winnipeg, Man., got his wings on July 14, had been in the air force 10 months. The Duke asked where he took his service flying and the reply was "In Brantford, Ontario."

Corporal John Sims, Jasper, Alta., said he was a wireless electrical mechanic and had been a radio technician before joining the air force.

"Nineteen months," was his reply to the Duke's question of how long he had been in the service. "Have you done any instructing?" the royal visitor asked.

"Yes, sir, a little," Sims replied.

"How do you like the air force?" was another question asked of him.

"Fine, sir," the corporal said.

D.F.C. to Canadian

LONDON (CP)—Squadron Leader K. C. Forsythe of Fort Garry, Man., today was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for a daring attack on an enemy convoy in July.

He was leader of Royal Air Force squadron 110 which blew up a 7,000-ton ship loaded with ammunition and so badly damaged a 6,000-ton supply ship an hour later that only the stern was above water.

"Tips for Tourists"—See them on Page 15 of this paper.

Cheers From 3,500 For Royal Visitor

Lean, tanned and wearing the uniform of an Air Commodore in the Royal Air Force, His Royal Highness the Duke of Kent received a vociferous welcome when he reached Victoria, the most westerly point of his trans-Canada inspection tour.

For the first time since Patricia Bay airport went into service at the beginning of the war the general public was invited inside the grounds for the occasion. Close to 3,500 people drove out from the city and cheered the Duke at each appearance. Along the route to the city, residents stood at cross-roads and by-paths to salute His Highness as the Ducal party passed.

Three aluminum-built Lockheed communication planes brought the party across from Vancouver and as they circled over the airport a swelling murmur arose from the crowd. They had been waiting for more than an hour, for the planes arrived later than had been expected.

FLIES ROYAL STANDARD

The Duke's plane, flying the Royal standard, and piloted by Squadron Leader H. M. Kennedy, taxied up the tarmac first in line. His Highness stepped out in full view of the crowd to be greeted by Wing Commander J. L. Plant, O.C. of the station, Squadron Leader D. E. Galloway, who flew the torch of freedom across Canada in June, and other officers.

Air Commodore A. Earl Godfrey, O.C. Western Air Command, came out of the Royal plane with the Duke and they immediately began an inspection of the guard of honor, 100 strong, drawn up on the runway. The Duke saluted the crowd as he began the inspection. The honor guard was in command of Flight-Lieut. Gordon C. Diamond.

Walking between the ranks the Duke stopped to talk to a number of the men.

The provincial and civic welcome did not take place until after the Duke had finished his inspection of the guard. He stood in front of a large Royal standard unfurled beside the runways to take the salute on the march past.

Then he was introduced by Commodore Godfrey to Lieut.-Governor Hamber, Premier Pattullo, Major-General R. O. Alexander, O.C. Pacific Defences, Commodore W. J. R. Beech, senior naval officer, and Mayor Andrew McGavin.

WING'S PARADE SALUTED

A wing's parade came next, presenting the Royal salute. The air force men made a distinct impression by their smart drill and unified action. During the inspection of the parade the band played "There'll Always Be an England" in slow time.

Drawn up beside the runways, giving the impression of force, were two formidable looking Hudson bombers, two Lysander reconnaissance planes and two Lockheed transports. The Ducal party's planes, shining in the sun, lay slightly apart. They carried no armament and were unescorted by fighters.

The wing's parade marched past to take the Royal salute and as His Highness entered his car the crowd again set up a cheering roar. The car in which His Highness drove was the same Buick limousine used by King George VI during his visit in 1939. The car was purchased after the Royal visit by Mrs. Ross Palmer of Comox and was loaned for the present occasion.

PERFECT TRIP

J. A. Lowther, secretary to the Duke, said the trip across the Rockies from Calgary was perfect in every way.

"We flew most of the way, between 11,000 and 13,000 feet across the mountains," he said. "There was a bit of a head wind but, so far as I could tell the flight was right by the book. The planes remained in formation all the way."

It was the standard V formation—V for victory.

The Duke toured the Patricia Bay station before coming to the city to Government House. He inspected the men's quarters and visited the seaplane section of the base where two Grumman amphibians were drawn up on the float.

He dropped in at the officer's mess for a brief talk with the men.

His Royal Highness, who likes to be at the wheel himself whenever he can, drove the car from the airport to Sidney and then turned it over to the chauffeur.

In twos, threes and dozens people gathered at sidroads to greet the Duke on the journey to town. Children waved flags as the Ducal car passed. Many houses had the Union Jack flying outside.

At Government House in the evening a semi-official dinner was held, attended by leading officers of the services and government officials. The Duke is the guest of Lieut.-Governor Hamber during his stay here.

Dentz Interned

LONDON (CP)—A Reuters' dispatch from Beirut, Syria, said today Gen. Henri Dentz, the former high commissioner and commander-in-chief of the Levant States, had been interned by the Allies.

Gen. Dentz led the Vichy defence forces against the British and Free French in the 33-day Syrian conflict, which was ended by an armistice July 14.

Thirty-five other Vichy officers also were reported interned. The reason was failure to release some British and Free French officers who were flown to an unrevealed destination just before the end of the war.

Great Crowd Which Greet's Duke of Kent Gets View of Fast-growing Airdrome at Patricia Bay

The Royal Canadian Air Force band and the guard of honor made a splendid show as they marched along the tarmac in the blistering heat. The Duke takes the salute.

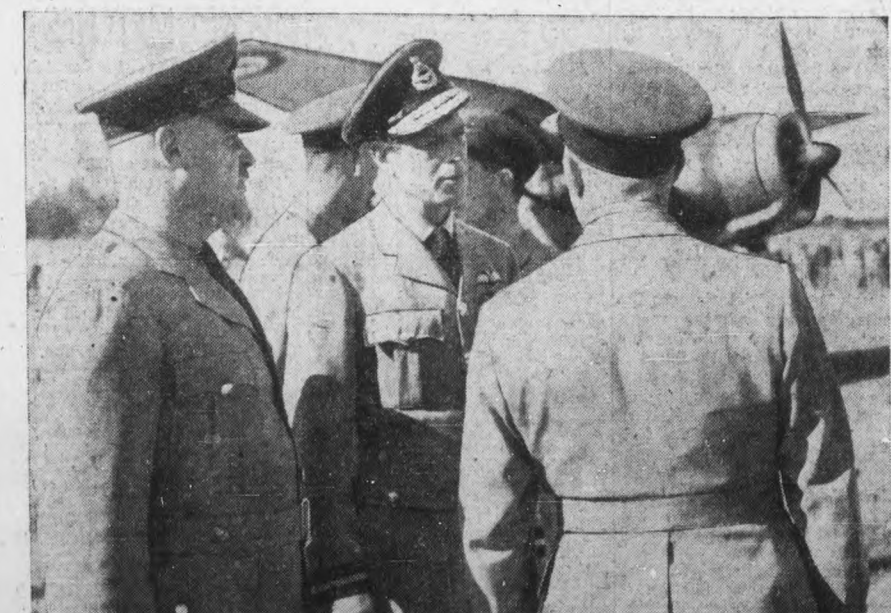

This was the first view which the crowd of 3,500 people got of the Duke. He is leaving his silver plane, which flies the Royal Standard, accompanied by Air Commodore Earl A. Godfrey, O.C., Western Air Command, R.C.A.F. At the extreme right is Wing Commander Sir Louis Greig, aide to His Highness.

The Duke shakes hands with Premier T. D. Pattullo. At the left is Lieutenant-Governor E. W. Hamber, who is host to His Royal Highness. Next to Premier Pattullo is Major-General R. O. Alexander, Pacific defence commander, the Duke and Air Commodore Godfrey.

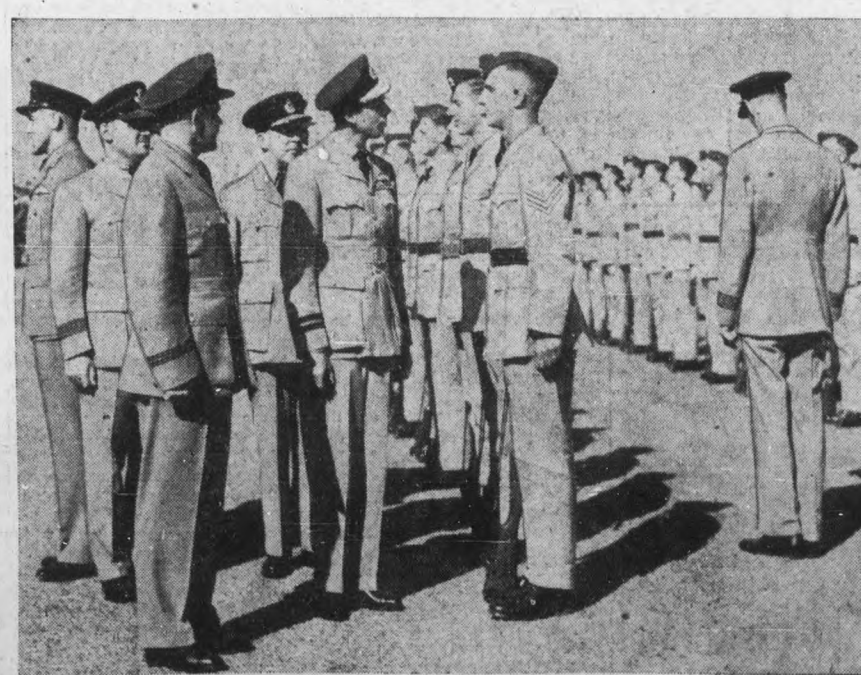

Some women took chairs to place beside the tarmac for the hour-long wait for His Royal Highness. One woman in the front row gives a "thumbs up" salute.

GOLF TOURNAMENTS come and go but the annual seniors' tournament seems to be improving with age. Next week at Oak Bay the veterans will gather in Victoria for their 19th annual get-together. This is one golf affair where golf plays second fiddle to a good time. These grand daddies of the links gather every year to derive a wealth of enjoyment from each other's company and play a little golf. Their matches, or at least the majority of them, do not have the serious complex that marks usual tournament engagements.

Seniors' tournament is one of the most pleasant golf assignments in our long association with the sport. Everybody makes you welcome and the gathering of news about these veterans, many of whom occupy prominent positions in the business world, provides an interesting afternoon. The tournament allows these same tycoons one opportunity every year to get out on a golf course and forget about their worries, if they have any. And do they ever have a grand time. Just pay a visit to the club during one of these tournaments and listen to the old boys talk about their many experiences.

National League pitching is knocking an old baseball theory out into the bleacher seats.

It is the one about pitching being 75 per cent or more of baseball.

Connie Mack holds that the lively ball upped the premium on pitching to as much as 90 per cent.

Well, then, how come the Cincinnati are where they are despite the herculean efforts of Derringer, Walters, Vander Meer and the mild sensation, Elmer Riddle.

If at the outset of the current campaign it could have been foretold that Johnny Vander Meer's comeback would be so thorough and Riddle would so completely live up to his name, the Reds would have been more than a unanimous choice than they were.

With all their effectiveness on the mound, the Cincinnati are many games out of first place.

The answer is that the way has not yet been found to win ball games without runs.

First base cannot be stolen... not even by a Bill Werber, who knows how to get around.

Billy Southworth confidently stresses the fact that the Cardinals' pitching held up through the St. Louis club's first slump—a five-game losing span.

A base hit here or there would have won any one of them.

Southworth is fully aware of the importance of pitching, but remained optimistic because he also knows that a batting order including Frank Crespi, Moore, Johnny Hopp, Mize, the aptly named Slaughter, Jimmy Brown and Padgett won't remain a collection of All-America out for long.

Starting the second half of the season with a long home stand, the New York Giants had Hubbell with five straight, Melton with one run yielded in 29 rounds, young Bob Carpenter with five victories and one defeat, and Schumacher and Bill Lohrmann slinging steadily if without too many breaks.

Tipoff on the Polo Grounders' attack—or lack of one—is that 15, or almost half of their defeats, have been suffered by the margin of a single run.

Old Gentlemen of Harlem have done remarkably well thus far, but will be fortunate to escape the second division.

Pitching tells much of the story if a club has enough of it, but it is vastly more formidable when blended with the power of the puke.

Draper Leads Canadian Golf

Snead Has Troubles

TORONTO (CP)—The clamorous customers at the Canadian open championship, currently being played here at the Lambton Golf and Country Club, are getting into the thinning hair of Sammy Snead, defending titleholder.

Yesterday Snead shot a 71—one over par—to finish four strokes behind Tom Draper Jr., a St. Louis amateur, who showed the way to a large field in the opening round of the Dominion's outstanding 72-hole test. And Sammy was rather prone to blame his defection on the enthusiastic gallery that stamped around him all afternoon as he essayed to cope with the tricky, heavily-trapped Lambton course.

In justice to Snead, the gallery swarmed around like a crowd of amiable ants. Whereas the less-publicized golfers were able to complete their rounds in comparative anonymity, Sammy was pursued relentlessly by hundreds of golf flirts every step of the way.

It is possible that the well-intentioned attentions of the gallery had something to do with the fact that Snead—who is seeking his third Seagram Gold Cup in four years—three-putted three greens on the outgoing nine.

In any event, he lodged a quiet and gentlemanly beef with authorities at the conclusion of yesterday's round. He merely requested that his starting time be moved ahead so that he can complete today's 18-hole test before the more clamorous members of the gallery make their appearance.

The officials of the Canadian open quite readily acceded to his request. The champ was scheduled to tee off around noon today.

But there is no reason to believe that Draper's sizzling first round will give him any license to make claims to the title. Three of the top-ranking U.S. professionals—Horton Smith, Johnny Bulla and Lloyd Mangrum—were breathing close on the St. Louis shotmaker after they carded snappy 68's.

Two more men—Archie Skinner of St. Andrews, N.B., and bandy-legged Bobby Cruickshank, were knotted with 69's, and there were four others with 70's—Gene Sarazen, W. A. Francis of Altoona, Pa., Gerard Proulx of Montreal, and Bobby Gray of Toronto.

Port Angeles plays Ball Here Tomorrow

Pair of intercity baseball games will be played tomorrow with Victoria opposing Port Angeles at the Athletic Park at 2:30 and 6:15. The games mark the opening of the annual Hart Cup series.

In a second division playoff game last night, Eagles defeated the Tillikum Cubs 3 to 2 to enter the final.

NEW YORK—Carl Guggino, 135, Hartford, Conn., outpointed Guillermo Puentes, 133, Colombia, S.A. (8).

Doc Prothro Moans

No Baseball Material

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Doc Prothro, back from an eight-day safari through the baseball bushes, is a little discouraged at the calibre of the new crop of players—not only for the sake of his own Phillies but for the big leagues in general.

"The stock," said Doc, "is not so hot. And I'm not alone in that opinion either. Look around at either league."

The Phils' portly manager covered a considerable section of the southern states on his ivory-hunting tour. He saw most of the clubs in the Southern Association and the cotton states league.

"I don't see much of the natural player any more," observed Prothro.

The natural player in his eye is the rugged youngster who can step right up to the plate, doesn't

Cards Back On Top

Cooper Regains Form

St. Louis Cardinals are back on top of the National League today, but their position in the standings is not as important as the fact that Mort Cooper is back with his pitching magic.

Until he developed elbow trouble in June, the 27-year-old right-hander figured to be the ace of Billy Southworth's pitching corps. Then when he had an operation nobody knew whether he would pitch better—or not at all.

Cooper returned to the line-up July 27 and pitched part of the 11th inning against Boston Braves. Then he was given a good rest and given a starting assignment against the poor Phillies last Sunday. He pitched a six-hit victory.

Yesterday came the real test. Cooper was sent out against Cincinnati Reds and pitched and batted the Cardinals to a 4 to 3 11-inning victory that put St. Louis in front of the idle Brooklyn Dodgers again by just a shade. The Cards have a half-game lead in the win column.

Cooper held Cincinnati scoreless till the seventh in a pitching duel with Bucky Walters, whom the Cards cut for a run in the second. Then they struggled on scorelessly till the 11th, when Johnny Mize singled, Enos Slaughter doubled and Estel Crabtree and Cooper singled for two runs.

The Reds got one of these back in the 11th, bringing Sam Nahem to the mound to make the final out, but this scarcely detracted from Cooper's ninth victory and the fact the Cards' staff is complete again.

Only one other National League game was played and Pittsburgh Pirates were in it—winning a 4 to 3 decision over Chicago Cubs on Al Lopez' home run with two out in the ninth. It was the Pirates' sixth straight triumph and their 18th in 21 games.

New York Yankees dropped a 9 to 5 verdict to the Boston Red

Visiting Bowlers Win Intercity Trophies

Tuesday's Boxla Game Ruled Out

It's Alerts and Jokers again this evening, and the boys are starting with one game apiece under their belts after a successful protest last night by the latter team at a meeting of the local boxla moguls which canceled last Tuesday night's game, won by the Alerts 21 to 7.

Gus Munro and Jimmy Smith signed the seven clause kick, long enough to make pretty substantial reading, and the bosses of the local lacrosse association struggled through, paragraph by paragraph, for over an hour before they decided in favor of the blackshirts.

Most conspicuous of the complaints upheld at the meeting was the misinterpretation of a rule by the arbiters in connection with a Joker crease penalty.

So, again this evening, the two teams start from scratch in the third game of the series, both at full strength. Again on the Alerts' defense will be Truck McDonald, and in goal will be Joe Bryant, who, during most of the season, played in the junior league. Jokers have every confidence after last night's upheaval, and in any case it's apparent that neither team wants to prolong the series any more than necessary. The game starts at 8:30.

At 6 Clarksons and Oaklands will meet in a Juvenile B contest and at 7 McLean's Bakery and Owl Drug meet in the first game of the junior league final.

At the close of last night's association session Gus Munro and Ted Menzies tabled a jointly signed letter protesting the ruling of the executive on a certain clause in the B.C. constitution. It will be dealt with next Thursday evening at 5:15 at a special meeting of the association. All teams have been requested to have representatives at the deliberations.

Alert lineup follows: Bryant, Malcolm, Pickford, Price, Thompson, A. Overcharick, K. Overcharick, Perry, McDonald, Williams, Robinson, Robbins and Coates.

Reston Scores Double Victory

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—Highlighted by the record-breaking performance of Jack Pomfret, Vancouver, in the men's 50-yard breaststroke final, Kelowna's 35th and most successful swimming regatta closed in Canadian championship style yesterday.

Pomfret's time of 29 3/5 seconds in the 50-yard breaststroke dash is a new regatta record and believed by officials to be 3/5 of a second better than the standing Canadian record.

Not to be outdone by invading talent, Kelowna's ace mermale, Alice Thomson, was the all-round star of the two-day water show.

She easily won the women's aggregate trophy with 90 points, far ahead of her nearest rival, Macrina Booth, Victoria, who totalled 36 points.

Louis Egan, Spokane, was declared men's aggregate champion.

Hugh Reston, Victoria, was the leading winner of the men's events yesterday, splashing his way to victory in both the 400-yard open freestyle and the one-mile open event. Reston finished ahead of Prosper Hill, Seattle, and John Wyrzokowski, Kelowna, in 26 minutes 21 3/5 seconds, in the mile.

The Victoria team of Bob Johnston, Ron Neilson, Len Coverdale and Hugh Reston won the 400-yards relay, men's open B.C. championship with a thrilling overhaul victory over Seattle.

Bob Montgomery gave Victoria another B.C. championship by winning the junior boys 50-yard backstroke race.

The half-mile junior girls Wrigley Cup was won by Shirley Muir, who nosed out her Vancouver club mate Betty Baggeley and Kay Seely, Okanagan Mission.

Lutz Enters Final Round Of Singles

Visiting players came into their own last night in the Greater Lawn Bowling Association's holiday tournament when they captured both the Kelly Douglas and Tolmie Cups in competition against Victorians. At the Beacon Hill greens Roy Miller, South Vancouver, captained the out-of-town men to a 240 to 197 victory over H. Beckwith's local side while at the Canadian Pacific Club the visiting women defeated Victoria's best 188 to 179.

An all-Victoria final will take place in the men's singles as a result of the 15 to 14 victory scored by Harvey Lutz, Lake Hill, over Roy Miller, South Vancouver, in yesterday's semifinal.

Lutz will meet W. Davidson, Burnside, in the deciding match. The latter won his semifinal Wednesday evening.

Miller put up a great fight before dropping his match. After being down 10 to 3 the mainlander tied the score at 14-11.

On the final end Lutz won with a measured shot to capture one of the closest matches to date.

Semifinals were reached in the men's doubles with four mainlander pairs making up the brackets. From the South Vancouver club were Nelson and Lapatro, Morrison and Yates and Kenmuir and Kenmuir while Keenlyside and Keenlyside represented the Kerrisdale club.

Three Vancouver and one Victoria pair gained the semis of the women's doubles. Representing mainlander clubs were: Mrs. Yates and Mrs. Morrison, Stanley Park; Mrs. Barracough and Mrs. Whyte, Kerrisdale and Mrs. Ross and Mrs. Cooke, Stanley Park, while Mrs. Keating and Mrs. Willie, Victoria, were the only locals still with a chance to lift the title.

230 Officers Graduate From Gordon Head Camp

The three jobs of an officer are to lead his men, train them and look after their welfare, first graduating officer cadets of the Gordon Head training centre were told today by Maj.-Gen. R. O. Alexander, general officer commanding in chief, Pacific command.

The 230 officer cadets, now fully qualified second lieutenants of the active army, left for centres in other parts of Canada for advanced training which will qualify them as full lieutenants. The first job of an officer requires only courage, Gen. Alexander said. The second and third require hard work and training and study, he added, pointing out that mistakes in civilian life might affect only an individual, but that mistakes in army life might affect a whole unit.

MEN MUST BE FIRST

"The welfare of the men isn't a question of wet-nursing the men," he told the graduating class, "but you must look after the men and then yourselves. The men must be first and foremost every time. That is the great lure of the service—the comradeship of the men about you who depend on you."

Gen. Alexander advised the class not to court popularity. "An officer wins the respect of his men through straight-forward habits and fine personality," he said. "Try to get your men to regard you as guide, philosopher and friend. These things mean a tremendous lot and have made the army what it is throughout the British Commonwealth."

Officers should be strict at all times, with others and with themselves, he said, maintaining discipline and being fair and straightforward about it.

"Every officer and noncommissioned officer today is a potential commanding officer," Gen. Alexander reminded the class. "Every single one might find himself having to deal with a small situation around him in modern warfare."

Col. A. D. Wilson, officer commanding the Gordon Head Officers' Training Centre, said the staff of the centre would feel proud that it had taken part in starting the young officers on their way.

NEW CLASS TO START

Members of the graduating class will spend from four to 18 weeks at advanced training centres before they become full lieutenants in whatever branch of the service they have chosen. A new class of officer cadets will start training immediately at Gordon Head. This class is expected to include about 200 members, and will register tomorrow. Members are chosen from units throughout western Canada.

Meanwhile training of other officer cadets is proceeding at the centre, and the second class of about 250 will graduate next month.

CRASH VICTIMS' CONDITION GOOD

"Fairly good" and "good" were the reports given at St. Joseph's Hospital today on five people injured in a car crash at Sooke early Wednesday morning.

Gerald and Joseph Spark, 426 Walter Avenue, who suffered fractures of the skull and other lesser injuries were reported fairly good.

The three others, David Lister, 439 Walter Avenue; Miss Florence Harper, 488 Admirals Road, and Miss Beverly Lane, 725 Cooper Avenue, were reported good. Lister, who suffered a fractured skull, was resting comfortably. Miss Harper, who received a broken nose and contusions to the chest and face, had a fairly comfortable night. Miss Lane, who suffered back injuries and bruises to the face and leg, was resting comfortably.

TOWN TOPICS

In Saanich Police Court yesterday a motorist was fined $10 when he pleaded guilty to operating a car bearing license plates belonging to another car. He was fined also for driving without a license.

City firemen extinguished a fire in a motorcycle parked on Broad Street at 6.15 last evening, a grass fire at Beacon Hill Park at 6.45 which took an hour and a quarter, a small grass fire at Thurlow and Kipling Streets at 10.25 and a fire in an awning at Dick's Dress Shoppe, 1324 Douglas Street, at 1.05 this morning.

Eight motorists were fined $2.50 each in City Police Court today for parking their cars over the hour in restricted zones, for parking over 12 inches from the curb, for parking over the property line and for parking in a prohibited area. One motorist was fined $5 for not making a hand signal when turning and another was fined $5 for making a U-turn.

DUKE DRIVES OFFICIAL CAR

Well known as a lover of motoring, the Duke of Kent tested Saanich Peninsula roads yesterday afternoon with the Buick limousine in which his brother, King George VI, was driven during the Royal visit here in 1939.

The Duke took over the wheel just as the party left the officers' mess at Patricia Bay and drove as far as Royal Oak. There he resumed his seat in the back of the car to acknowledge the cheers of crowds along the road to the city.

Provincial traffic officers said the Duke was an excellent driver. He drove at about 40 miles an hour.

The open limousine, with glassed sides, was purchased by Mrs. Ross Palmer of Comox after the Royal visit and was loaned by her for the Duke's tour in Victoria.

At Banff the Duke reportedly drove 90 miles an hour through the park roads when he took over from the chauffeur for a spell—at least that is the speed which accompanying cars had to travel to overtake him.

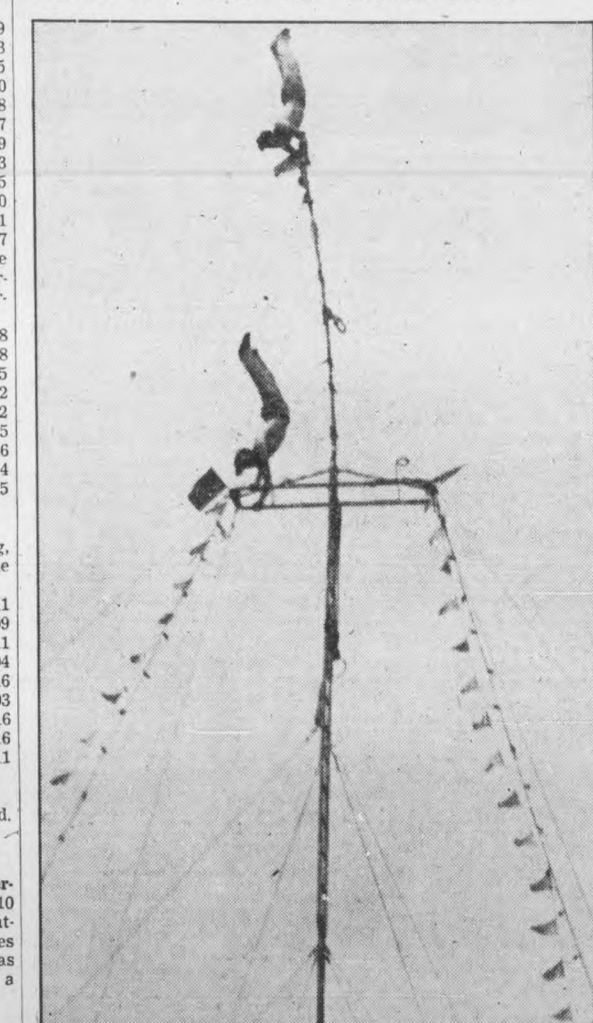

Bondholders Ask Alberta Pay Up

EDMONTON (CP)—Premier Aberhart and Alberta cabinet members conferred today with representatives of Alberta bondholders in an effort to working out a settlement of the problem caused by defaulting on more than $5,000,000 of provincial bonds and reduction by one-half of the interest rate on the bonds. The conference was sought by the bondholders, who urge that more than half the coupon interest rate be paid.

Attending on behalf of the bondholders were J. M. Macdonell of Toronto, president and general manager of the National Trust Company; H. W. Tatlock, South Orange, N.J., representing the Prudential Insurance Company of America and other United States interests; R. D. Tighe of Edmonton, representing the Northern Alberta bondholders; H. A. Howard, R. C. Carlyle, A. D. Cumming and C. B. Clarke, all of Calgary.

Stars at Circus Tomorrow

workers are busy at the Wilbrows Horse Show Building today preparing for the opening matinee tomorrow afternoon of Polack Bros. circus, which comes again with a new show, sponsored by the Gizeh Shrine Temple. The Lord Mayor's Fund will benefit by the performances in Victoria. On Sunday afternoon a good number of the acts and animals will go to the Solarium to present their annual show for the children there. This is a good deed that the management of the Polack Bros. circus looks forward to every year in Victoria for Gizeh Shrine. Among the many new feature acts to appear in Victoria this year will be the famous Black Horse Troupe of eight horses which have appeared at all the largest fairs and circuses in the country, with the greatest horse trainer of all times, Carlos Carreon. The Aerial Comets, America's daring thrillers in a sensational high act that will reach the rafters of the Horse Show Building with the performers on the very tip of a high pole doing a hand stand while the pole is dizzily swaying back and forth. Performances for the Shrine Circus will take place on Saturday afternoon at 2.15, Saturday night at 8.15, Monday night, Tuesday night, Wednesday afternoon and the final performance Wednesday night. Reserved seats may be had for any of the performances at the Terry Drug Store.

Morning Airmail

Mayhew Arranges For Continuance

Victoria will have its early morning air mail service to eastern Canada all through the winter as a result of representations made by Robert W. Mayhew, M.P., to the Postmaster-General at Ottawa.

There are five trips a day between here and Vancouver by seaplane and on three of these mail is carried. In order to make connections with the morning plane of Trans-Canada Airlines out of Vancouver for Ottawa, Toronto and Montreal, Mr. Mayhew arranged several months ago for an extra flight from this city, the plane taking off from Esquimalt at 5 a.m.

There was a question as to what would happen when daybreak came later than 5. According to regulations government commercial flying planes cannot take off or land during darkness any place where landing lights are not provided. There are no lights at either Esquimalt or Vancouver for seaplanes.

Mr. Mayhew asked that the service be made out of the Patricia Bay Airdrome, which is under control of the Royal Canadian Air Force, and this has been granted. The superb runways there are equipped with the latest type of lighting.

Canadian Airways, which operate the seaplane service out of here, will switch to a land plane for the morning flight. The plane will land at the Vancouver airport, which is lighted.

B.C. Well Organized For Civilian Defence

Except for a few outlying spots the main centres of British Columbia are now organizing quickly for civilian defence, Attorney-General Gordon Wismer said today after a two-weeks' tour of northern ridings in the interests of A.R.P. work.

"Wonderful co-operation has been shown by the local committees in all areas," said Mr. Wismer. They have grasped the purpose of the scheme and are accepting the responsibility.

Mr. Wismer was accompanied on his tour by B.C. Police Commissioner T. W. S. Parsons and Chief Protection Officer S. F. M. Moodie. Before his northern tour Mr. Wismer traveled the southern interior to help organize the A.R.P.

Nazis' Longing Eyes On Americas—Hull

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Cordell Hull said today Germany was looking with longing eyes to the western hemisphere for further conquest. Berlin sources said a German campaign was to be launched to expose what they called ruthless power politics by President Roosevelt in Latin America.

Hull described the Berlin claim as a transparent piece of propaganda which he said would not deceive, much less be seriously considered, by any country in this hemisphere.

It came, he added, from a group representing a government which had ruthlessly seized some 15 countries in Europe.

PRESS CAMPAIGN BERLIN (AP)—All Berlin evening papers today directed columns-long broadsides against American acquisition of defence bases, charging the United States has or is negotiating for 121 naval and air bases in Central and South America.

Sailor Held on Driving Charge
Jeremiah Blyth, a sailor from Coombs, on leave in Victoria from eastern Canada, was remanded until Monday, and was ordered to be kept in custody when he appeared on remand in City Police Court today on a charge of dangerous driving following a head-on car crash on Gorge Road Wednesday night.

Blyth pleaded not guilty to the charge in court yesterday, but changed his plea to guilty today. Sgt. John Blackstock of the city police said Blyth was the driver of a heavy model car which hit a light car driven by Robert Wall, 3049 Earl Gray Street, head-on. Wall received a fractured skull and chest injuries as a result.

Blyth was on the wrong side of the road and he had been drinking heavily, the police sergeant said. The collision pushed the Wall car which was traveling west on Gorge Road near Washington Avenue, 48 feet 10 inches down the road. There was a skid mark 68 feet long before the impact in the direction the Blyth car was traveling.

About $300 damage was done to Mr. Wall's car. St. Joseph's Hospital officials said today Mr. Wall's condition was good, and he was resting comfortably. A passenger in the Blyth car, Mrs. Evelyn Cooper, 2024 Carnovon Street, who suffered lacerations to the nose and contusions to the chest, was reported in fairly good condition at Jubilee Hospital.

'Love Crazy' at Capitol Tomorrow

Comical complications ensue thick and fast when William Powell sets out to convince Myrna Loy that he's crazy in "Love Crazy," their latest hilarious adventure, playing at the Capitol Theatre tomorrow.

It starts with a marital quarrel, and Myrna decides on a divorce.
But Powell discovers that she can't legally divorce an insane husband, so insane he goes in a big way, chewing up phonorecords and otherwise staging
"bughouse" antics.

But the alienists take him seriously and he's locked in the asylum.

ATLAS THEATRE
George Bernard Shaw has called Charlie Chaplin "the only genius in motion pictures." And during production of Charlie's latest and greatest comedy, "The Great Dictator," now at the Atlas
Theatre, apropos of United Artists' having signed the well-known Gabriel Pascal as a producer, sent Charlie the following wire: "Congratulations United Artists on having captured Pascal, the only man living, except yourself, who knows as much about filming as I do." The last, of course, is part of the proverbial
Shavian touch.

PLAZA THEATRE
"Come On, George," the latest
George Formby hit, is enhanced by the introduction of four lilt-ing new songs, "I'm Making Headway
Now," "Come On, George," "Good Night, Little Fella," and "Pardon Me," rendered in popular fashion by George Formby to the accompaniment of his ukulele.

Rebuild Ferry For Island Run

Addition of a 17-car ferry barge to the Canadian Pacific service between Vancouver Island and Vancouver for the haulage of lumber shipped by island mills by rail across Canada for export to the United Kingdom, is announced by Capt. R. W. MacMurray, manager of the B.C. coast service.

The car ferry, now on Kootenay Lake, is being cut into two sections at Nelson, to be loaded on flat cars and brought out to the coast.

The sections will be brought to Esquimalt, where they will be reassembled with an additional 40-ft. section inserted in the centre, increasing the ferry's capacity from 15 to 17 cars.

The work will be carried out by Yarrows Ltd.

The cost of the undertaking, which will also include the stiffening of parts and heightening of the freeboard to meet salt-water requirements, will be approximately $150,000.

The ferry will be fitted with a boiler, windlass, anchors and cables, davits and lieboats, new steering gear and other requirements for sea service.

The addition of the barge is necessary to augment the car ferry service maintained by the company between Vancouver Island and Vancouver, because of the steadily-increasing shipment of lumber by rail for export overseas.

No Ceremony At Keel-laying

Next week will probably see a start made in actual construction of the first of the 9,300-ton steel freighters which two local shipyards are building under the Wartime Merchant Shipping Ltd. program.

This intimation was given today by Herbert S. Hammill, manager of the Victoria Machinery Depot plant, which is rapidly getting into production stage.

"We expect to get down to it very shortly, possibly by next week," said Mr. Hammill when asked about the keel-laying at the Outer Harbor yard.

A spokesman for Yarrows Ltd. intimated that the Esquimalt plant was approaching the organization stage when a start could be made.

There will be no keel-laying ceremonies, it was stated at both plants.

A section of the keel plate will be laid on the keel blocks and the riveters will then get to work in earnest.

At the Outer Harbor plant of the Victoria Machinery Depot a complete transformation is taking place. Sand and gravel is being dumped between the piling of the building ways to lessen fire hazard and give added strength to the heavy timber structure. The boiler shop and molding loft is in course of reconstruction and trackage is reaching out on all sides to facilitate the handling of the steel as it arrives. The old warehouse building on Dallas Road has been remodeled as an up-to-date office and the staff under Manager Hammill has taken over at the new site.

Axis Loses Ships

CAIRO (AP)—Two merchant ships have been sunk and two others damaged in air attacks on an Axis convoy in the Mediterranean, the Royal Air Force Middle East headquarters announced today.

A destroyer guarding the convoy also may have been damaged and one of the struck merchantmen probably sank, the communiqué said.

Navy-Army Race In Open Regatta

Feature of the open regatta to be put on Saturday and Sunday by the Royal Victoria Yacht Club will be a sailing race in which officers of the navy and army will comprise the competing crews. The young naval officers will be drawn from H.M.C.S. Royal Roads, while the army student officers will be from the officers' training camp at Gordon Head.

There will be six navy boats and the same number of army craft, each boat carrying either two or three of a crew, it was stated today by Humphrey Golby, member of the managing committee, in announcing the special race. The navy and army race will start at 1:30 Sunday afternoon. The stars, dinghies and snipes used in the competition will be supplied by members of the club.

The regatta, which will start at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon, will be open to all sailing boat owners in the district. The entries which have been received to date indicate a well-attended and colorful regatta over the week-end.

Liner Georgic Is Damaged

LONDON (CP)—The Cunard White Star liner Georgic has been damaged by "enemy" action, the Ministry of Information disclosed today.

There were no troops aboard the 27,759-ton passenger liner at the time, the announcement said, and all crewmen were reported safe except the chief barkeeper.

Neither the time nor the place where the damage occurred was disclosed.

Members of the Pan-American Airways staff at Wake found the net on the coral breakwater, and sent the floats to the system's office here. The floats are hollow glass globes about four inches in diameter with a two-character Japanese inscription at the point where they were sealed shut. Similar floats are frequently found on the Pacific coast of this country, sometimes lost from Japanese boats operating on this side, sometimes perhaps having made the long journey from the opposite shore of the ocean, borne north to Alaskan waters by the Japan current and thence down the coast.

Japan Confiscates Tanker's Oil Cargo

SHANGHAI (AP)—A Japanese navy spokesman said today approximately 2,000 barrels of oil aboard the Standard Oil tanker Meyio had been confiscated by the Japanese navy after "investigation disclosed the oil was destined for guerrilla territory on the north bank of the Yangtze River" a few miles from here.

A Japanese embassy spokesman denied a report United States citizens unable to reach Shanghai from Japan "are being held as hostages." He said they may be unable to travel on trains or ships "due to congestion."

Ship Losses Down

NEWCASTLE, Eng.—A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, disclosed in an address that convoys, planes and patois in the north Atlantic cut Britain's July shipping losses to the lowest in more than a year.

Although Mr. Alexander did not give specific figures, he said "the month of July is the best we have had since I have been at the Admiralty." He has been at the Admiralty since May 12, 1940, when he joined the Churchill government.

Previously the lowest month under the First Lord was January, 1941, when 306,002 tons of British, Allied and neutral shipping were sunk.

Lobstering on the Atlantic coast is second in value only to the salmon fishery of the Pacific.

Captured Norse Whalers in Japan

NEW YORK (AP)—Reports reaching shipping circles here today said that three large Norwegian whaling vessels captured by a German raider in the Antarctic had reached a Japanese port with 150,000 barrels of oil.

The reports said German prize crews sailed the ships through the British blockade to Japan rather than risk an attempt to reach Germany or occupied France.

The ships were the old Wegger, 12,201 tons; Solglimt, 12,246 tons, and Pelagos, 12,083 tons. Norwegian shippers in London announced their capture last May.

It was believed likely that the vessels would join the Japanese navy as auxiliary naval tankers or supply ships.

FISHING NET HAD 5,000-MILE DRIFT

NEW YORK—A Japanese landing has been made at Wake Island, halfway between Hawaii and Guam, where the Pacific clippers stop. It will not be the occasion of an international incident, however, for the landing party consisted merely of a number of hollow glass floats (which Japanese fishermen use instead of cork floats) carrying a net lost overboard by some fishing boat. Oceanographers estimate that the long and lonely voyage of this bit of jettison must have covered between 4,000 and 5,000 miles.

Members of the Pan-American Airways staff at Wake found the net on the coral breakwater, and sent the floats to the system's office here. The floats are hollow glass globes about four inches in diameter with a two-character Japanese inscription at the point where they were sealed shut. Similar floats are frequently found on the Pacific coast of this country, sometimes lost from Japanese boats operating on this side, sometimes perhaps having made the long journey from the opposite shore of the ocean, borne north to Alaskan waters by the Japan current and thence down the coast.

Some of the floats picked up lately have been identical in pattern to the Japanese ones, but have borne the hammer-and-sickle emblem of the U.S.S.R. These presumably have been lost by Russian fishermen in the waters off Sakhalin island or Kamchatka peninsula.

Seized Axis Liners In Allies' Service

Passed by Censor
NEW YORK (AP)—Three Axis passenger liners totaling 21,604 tons have been captured by the British and Netherlands navies and are now in service of the Allies, shipping circles said today.

They were identified as follows:
Essex, German, 5,158 tons, captured in the East Indies and renamed the Terkoel.
Esquiline, Italian, 8,657 tons, captured by Britain near Aden and renamed Empire Governor.
Franken, German, 7,789 tons, captured in East Indies and renamed the Wangi Wangi.

To provide each person in a family with 18 to 20 quarts of tomato juice or canned tomatoes, a farm garden should allow 15 to 20 tomato plants per person.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market was one large question mark today and neither the bulls nor bears could provide even a small percentage of the answers. The trend was lower in the closing hour. Transfers for the full proceedings were around 500,000 shares.

Consolidated Aircraft touched a new 1941 top and Sears-Roebuck, ex-dividend, acted well. Other fairly good performers most of the day included U.S. Industrial Alcohol, Woolworth, Union Carbide, DuPont and Allied Chemical.

In the faltering division were Westinghouse, U.S. Steel, Chrysler, U.S. Rubber, Texas Corp., Standard Oil (N.J.), Southern Pacific, Douglas Aircraft, Lockheed, Anaconda and Atlantic Coast Line.

Canadian stocks were fractions lower. Dome lost $\frac{1}{4}$ and Lake Shore $\frac{1}{2}$ while Distillers Seagram gained $\frac{1}{4}$. In the bond market Canada 4s were unchanged.

Gains were showing finally for Dominion Foundries, the Canadian Car and Foundry issues, Dominion Steel "B" and United Steel. Imperial Oil and McCall were mildly soft spots.

Nayab was the heavy trader in gold. About 60,000 shares of the stock changed hands and the price firmed a cent to 27.

Steep Rock sold down 9 cents to 1.71 and the close was off a bit for Sudbury Basin and Nickel and higher for Chromium and Noranda. O'Brien lost 5 at 1.50.

Western oils perked up in the final period and Royalite sold $\frac{1}{2}$ up at 24 1/2 and Home Oil advanced about 15 cents to 2.40. Calgary and Edmonton, Anglo-Canadian and Foothills gained four to six cents.

Full Grown Fish Only Half Inch Long

In the great world of ocean life we find animals of almost every size. They range from whales down to tiny forms of life which can be seen only with the help of a microscope.

Among the fish, we have extra large sharks which grow to a length of 50 or 60 feet. We also have small fish such as the gobies (pronounced Go-biz).

Gobies known as "mud-skippers."

Most gobies are from two to six inches in length, but certain kinds are shorter than two inches, and others are more than two feet long. One kind—when full-grown—measures only half an inch from its nose to the tip of its tail! This little goby is found about the shores of the Philippine Islands.

Nearly all the gobies spend their lives close to the sea coast. Many enter rivers which flow into the ocean, and some have found their way to fresh-water lakes.

Among the few which swim into the open sea is the "white goby." It reaches a length of two inches, and is found in the North Sea, also in the Mediterranean. In some places, white gobies are caught in nets and are sent to market; they are served on the table after being fried or stewed in milk.

Although they are called "white," these gobies are not really white. They are almost like window glass; you can see through them.

The white goby has perhaps the shortest life of any animal with a backbone. It grows to old age within a year after being hatched. Where scientists have been able to study its life history they have found it dies in 12 months or less.

The California coast has the blind goby. This small, pink fish has a smooth skin. When young, it has eyes which work very well, but these lose their sight as time goes on. The young one fastens itself to the dark underside of a rock, or slowly moves about dark openings between rocks. It has little use for eyesight, and by the time it grows up it is quite blind.

Another interesting goby is the mud-skipper. It has front fins which can be used in crawling on the beach, and a short distance inland. It goes ashore to capture insects, and sometimes climbs about low parts of a mangrove tree.

Mud-skippers were so named because they skip over mud in swamps. They are found in warm parts of the world, mainly around the coasts of Africa and southern Asia.

'Y' Summer Camp Closed Yesterday

Fifty boys, age 10 to 12, returned from the Y.M.C.A. Glinz Lake camp yesterday afternoon, their 10-day vacation in the Sooke hills at an end. The lads went to camp on July 29, taking over from the older boys, after they had been encamped for two weeks.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—My boy friend and I have a great problem. We are in love and are seriously thinking about marriage, but our plans are not definite because he has to go into the army. Here is the problem: Should we kiss each other as much as we both want to? I think that is the main way people can show their love for one another, don't you? A kiss really means something to us. Could it mean less? Could we carry kissing to excess? Please help us because we want to do the right thing, most of all to ourselves.

A. AND B.

Answer: To kiss or not to kiss seems to have become one of the great modern problems in this country where a girl's popularity appears to depend not upon her looks or her intelligence, but upon her standing as a kisser, and where kisses have become the coin with which a young woman pays a boy for taking her out to places and buying her food and drink.

The boy who demands a good-night kiss from a girl when he takes her to a movie doesn't pretend to be in love with her. Neither is she in love with him. It is just his price for taking the girl out and she recognizes it as a just debt, but there is no more feeling in it than if she had handed him a two-bit piece.

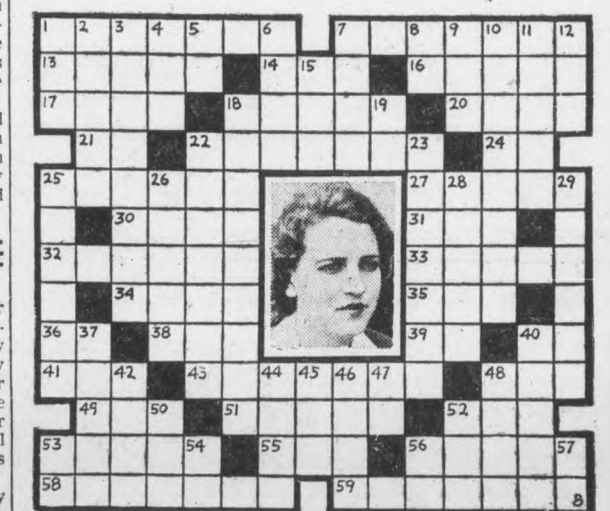

Every day you must see women who hate each other and who would bite a chunk out of each other's cheeks if they followed their natural impulses, kissing each other. And you must remember that Judas betrayed our Lord with a kiss.

And while you are romanticizing about kissing bear in mind that it is one of the most common ways in which a loathsome disease is carried to its victim.

Don't deceive yourself into thinking that kissing is an innocent pastime. Every kiss is loaded with dynamite and a girl can get so drunk on kisses that she does things that she spends the balance of her life repenting.

DOROTHY DIX.

With the Forces

'Churchill' Smooth as Plane

By ROSS MUNRO
SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND (CP) — A "Churchill" clanked ponderously from a grove of trees in the camp of the Canadian Army Tank Brigade. It crunched to a stop beside another of these monster infantry tanks, being mass-produced in Britain now, and Major J. H. Perry of Whitby, Ont., said to us: "Okay, boys, board 'em."

The King had ridden in one, Prime Minister Churchill had driven one, but certainly no war correspondent had ever gone for a spin in these tanks which, until a few weeks ago, were on Britain's secret list, and which the Ministry of Supply modestly describes as "probably" the most powerful tanks in the world.

"Put on the headphones and you can talk to one another when we're moving," said an officer. The Churchill's motors drummed like a bomber warming up, and the tank churned the earth as it started. Heaving up a slope it gathered speed and rumbled along smoothly. It seemed to manoeuvre as easily as lighter armored fighting vehicles.

Inside the tank we had plenty of room even to stand upright. There were small electric bulbs for light. Gun mechanism jutted into the centre of the turret space, but nothing looked very complicated. There were all sorts of special devices, but they didn't clutter up the tank.

It will take a large shell even to dent the heavy armored plating on these Churchills, and Canadian troops riding to battle in them will have more protection than anyone else in Canadian formations.

The driver took the tank up a steep bank and drove over the roughest ground in the camp, finally crashing down an embankment. The Churchill just rocked a little more than usual, plunged forward and straightened out. There are far worse bumps in small ships or in planes.

"A couple of three-minute eggs, please!"

TRAINS IN R.C.A.F.—Kenneth H. Wells, who recently enlisted in the R.C.A.F. and is now training to be a pilot. He is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Wells, 3479 Lovatt Avenue, Victoria. He was educated in Saskatoon and has lived for three years in Victoria, formerly serving with the Bank of Montreal at Prince George.

Radio Producer To Join R.C.A.F.

Twenty-one-year-old Graham Stafford, only son of Hanley Stafford, known to radio listeners on this continent as "Daddy Snooks," has returned to Winnipeg, his native city, to volunteer for the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Military service is nothing new in the family of the younger Stafford, who gave up a job as radio producer in Hollywood to volunteer his services. His father and grandfather both enlisted in Winnipeg regiments and served overseas during the first Great War, the former becoming a sergeant-major at the age of 18 after receiving wounds at Ypres, the latter being killed in the battle of the Somme.

"When I told my father what I was going to do, he wasn't much like a frustrated father," Stafford said. "He seemed pretty proud."

Son Flew Here In Royal Plane

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Brooks, Vancouver Street, were more than ordinarily interested in the arrival of the air force planes which brought Air Commodore the Duke of Kent and his party to Victoria. One plane carried their son, Sergeant J. E. Brooks.

Sergeant Brooks, rigger of the Royal planes, was stationed at the Rockcliffe, Ottawa, centre of the R.C.A.F. when he was chosen

Wayne Sabin Defeats Riggs

RYE, N.Y. (AP)—A pair of major upsets sent Wayne Sabin of Reno, Nev., and Bryan (Bitsy) Grant of Atlanta, Ga., into the semifinals of the eastern United States grass court tennis championships yesterday.

Sabin defeated top-seeded Bobby Riggs of Clinton, S.C., in straight sets, 8-6, 6-3, and Grant won even more decisively from Frank Parker of Spring Lake, N.Y., the fifth-seeded player, 6-4, 6-2. Neither Sabin nor Grant was seeded for this tournament.

Only the two men's singles matches were played yesterday. The bracket will be completed today when national champion Don McNeill of Oklahoma City faces William Talbert of Cincinnati and Frank Kovacs of Oakland, Calif., plays Ted Schroeder of Glendale, Calif.

The semifinal brackets in women's singles were filled pretty well according to form by Pauline Betz of Los Angeles, Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Cooke of New York, Dorothy Bundy of Santa Monica, Calif., and Mary Arnold of Los Angeles.

U.S. AIR FORCE NOT NEAR NAZIS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, Col. Robert Olds said today, will have an army air force only half the present size of Germany's even when the current expansion program is completed.

Col. Olds, veteran military flier, heads the army's new ferry command which delivers warplanes from factories to ports for shipment overseas.

"The Luftwaffe has seven independent air forces and more than 1,000,000 officers and men," Olds wrote in the periodical Flying and Popular Aviation. "We have four such forces and about 180,000 officers and men in our army air force organization."

"By the time our airplane construction and training program is complete, we will have an army air force about half the size of the Luftwaffe."

REVISED PLANS

Other official sources reported latest revised plans contemplate some 83 groups of combat planes, and more than 300,000 officers and men to fly and maintain them. Such a force is not expected to be realized for a year or more, even though the rate of training pilots is to be stepped up this fall to 30,000 a year and upwards of 80,000 warplanes are on order now in American plants for the army, navy and Britain.

Another air force officer, Major Hoyt Vandenberg, reported in the same periodical that long range "fighter planes of tomorrow" are on army engineering drafting boards. Such long range destroyer planes are needed to protect bombers.
